Denver- (NC) -A year ago an aged Denver Italian woman was given up as a hopeless tocurable by a succession of doctors. The doctors gave up, but the woman didn't; she had great faith in the powers of St. Frances Kayler Cabrint and St. Anthony. Today, after a baffling cure, she is completely well. Her present doctor, one of Denver's best known Catholic surgeoms, says fatly that it is a miracle. The woman, Mrs. Vivian Cinocco, who walked the same streets of Denver's North Side as Mother Cabrini once did said of the doctor's ministrations: "He said he had done nothing, but he's a good doctor. Maybe he helped, too, with Mother Cabrini and St Anthony." "The floctors all told me if was hopeless," she said. They told me to eat and drink anything I liked because, so far as medical science, was concerned, nothing

"But I continued to make novenas to Mother Cabrini and to pray to St. Anthony. And sud denly I was cured."

Mrs Cinocco's ailment is known technically as atrophic cirrhosis of the liver Similar in its effect to cancer, the disease causes an excessive formation of tissue and, in its atrophic form, causes the liver to shrink.

Denver- (NC) -Preparations have been made to accommodate at least 10,000 pilgrims at the St Frances Xavier Cabrini memorial, near Golden, Colon for the first annual pilgrimage to the shrine July 6. Archbishop Urban J. Vehr of Denver will take part in the dedication of the new altar at the shrine.
