East Bloomfield—Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon of St. Bridget's parish here celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of their wedding June 23 by renewing their vows before the same altar where they were married by the Rev. Patrick Neville.

A large congregation of relatives and friends of the Canons gathered in St. Bridget's for the ceremonies. Rev. George W. Doan heard the wedding vows repeated after which the Rev. Lawrence Wagner celebrated High Mass in thanksgiving for all the blessings of the couple's married life.

Following the church services, Mr. and Mrs. Cannon, through the efforts of their daughter, Helen, entertained a crowd of 70 relatives and friends at dinner served on the lawn.

A reception was held later from 3 to 8 o'clock for all their friends and acquaintances. The couple received many gifts in token of the esteem in which they are held in the parish and in the community.

Twenty-five years ago radio time was brief and infrequent and patient listeners held earphones tightly to their ears to catch the feeble sounds of music and talk that came from their homemade crystal sets.

Stronberg-Carlson Co. bought WHAM in 1927. Power was jumped from 100 watts to 5,000 when WHAM became an affiliate of NBC Blue Network and in 1933 power was increased to the present 30,000 watts.

A million-dollar new home for WHAM planned to be one of the finest broadcasting headquarters in the country is now being built on Humboldt Street near Culver Road.

The "Sunday Edition" of the Rochester Courier-Journal is now heard from WHAM on Sunday at 12:15 p. m. with the Rev. Richard T. Torney, associate editor, as commentator.
