The verkers' world has travelled for from the way of Christ. The work of bringing it back has been called by Pope Plus XI the chief social task of modern times. But who is to do the bringing back? According to the same Pope, it will exit be the bishops or the priests. but the workora themselves who will be the aposties of the workers. This is accordme to eardin al principle of specialized Fr. Elemen Catholic Acson like on like As was reported in this col umn last week, these apostolic workers are not to be assistants to the priests. Their chaplains act only as their trainers. In the actual nork out, it is up to them to take the initiative and apply the decisions.

Now the crucial point is how to get a worker and make him apostolie—so apostolic and reliable that he can be depended upon always to act accu rately - and this, without turning him into a "Holy Joe" whom the other fellows would run a mile to get away from.

It is the priest, of course. who has to make the start. He studies his parish environment. derica to but who executed and toners he has their economic status, the kind of work they ergago in etc. Now be wants to recruit his "soldiers." He looks for two or three, or bet ter, even one, as his leader This calls for tact and good nature and heaps of patience The fellow doesn't have to be rengious or comspicuous 'n his parish duties. The aitar-boy kind of young man undoubted ly has his place in God's plan of things, but often he is a sort of solitary, pour as a mixer, and acting preity much on his own, definitely not YCW material. The point can be illustrated by the incident of the Jocist who reported that a Communist in his factory out fit was undoing all the good he was trying to accomplish. The Jocist wanted to know what he has oil "Trods ob bloods convert the Communist" was the answer he got. So he went ahead and did just that and the one-time Communist be for leadership in the direction of Christ. So, the priest finds his man, chats with him, asks him many questions about his work and the situation at the shop, lets him do most of the talking. and thus, while winning the fel low's confidence by showing such ready interest in his work, he is at the same tire learn ing a good deal he never knew about before Perhaps nine mit of ten guys in a factory feel that the only interest a priest has in them is seeing them at church on Sunday. It really surprises them to find our that a priest is interested in the way they have to wark the other six days of the week, and is willing to talk with them

Soviet Roumania Coup d'Etat in Hungary

After stripping Hungary in the manner which Finland and Manchuria have been stripped, the Communist International managed another roup d'état

The leader of Hungary is now Matyas Kakozi. He was arrested in 1923 and 1925 for plotting to overthrow the government. He admitted that Russia sent $100,000 to aid in the later plot, according to re ports. Twelve years ago he was brought to trial on charges of high treason, twenty-one counts of hornicide and 489 other offenses. He turned up

After his exile, during which he was a merraher of the Corn munist International, he returned to Hungary Last year he visited Washington, D.C. when Nagy, then leader of the country, endeavored to get the from Hungary. One of his as the war.
