Through the Liturgical Movement, Father Reinhold said, leaders hope to educate Catholics generally in the meaning of the Mass and to revive the custom of participation by worshippers. He declared that "the ellent and tm mobile spectators that crowd our churches should be changed into a relebrating, singing throng," and deplored the attitude of

Declaring that a major purpose of the Livergical Movement is to revitalize Catholicism, with the Mass as the center of liturgical life, Father Reinhold asserted that "too many Catholics take the Mass for granted, considering it more of a passive exercise than something in which they should have a part."

He criticized communicants who have allowed the Mass to become a matter of personal devotion only, declaring that the Mass has social implications and should integrate the religious side of a Catholic with everything else he does in life.
