 The preparatory seminary of the Holy Spirit Fathers was dedicated here by the Most Rev. William A. Griffin, Bishop of Trenton, N. J., the first Mass held in the new building to open in New Jersey.

Trappists Use Quonset Huts
 Huntville, Va. (AP)—The monks of the first Catholic monastery in the state will erect a structure of four quonset huts in a 170-foot square, with a bell tower and cross extending 72 feet into the air, east of Huntville in Ogden valley.

Teachers Concerned With Teenage Spiritual Habits
 By REV. R. T. TORNEY
 The Sunday noon-day Mass has occasioned a serious falling off in the reception of the Sacraments by our high school pupils.

New Bishop
 The first national director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith while in that post, the Most Rev. Thomas J. McDonnell of New York, is pictured as he left St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, where he was consecrated Titular Bishop of Sela and Auxiliary of New York by His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York. He is shown here accompanied by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston. (NC Photos)

It will be the first monastery in the world constructed of quonset huts, according to Ashton, Evans, and Brazier, architects and engineers. However, the building is only intended as a temporary structure. It will take ten years to construct the final monastery, to be erected of stone.

This was the most startling note of agreement in a forum discussion for high school teachers attending the annual Diocesan Teachers' Conference held last week at Aquinas Institute. Entitled "Our Catholic Teenagers—Are We Doing All We Can?" the panel discussion presented a frank treatment of high school problems. Rev. Dr. C. J. Mahoney, diocesan superintendent of schools, presided. The participating speakers were the Rev. J. Joseph O'Connell of Nazareth Academy, Rev. John T. Callahan of Our Lady of Mercy High School, Rev. Raymond P. Nolan of de Sales High School, Geneva, and Rev. Thomas Slattery, C.S.B., of Aquinas Institute.

This priest had been arrested by the Gestapo in 1939 because he had informed a young woman who had sought his counsel about a prospective marriage that he would not be able to marry her in church since her fiancée was a member of the SS and had formally severed his ties with the Church.

"THE NOON-DAY MASS," the priests agreed, "does not help religion anywhere because it caters to lazy church-going habits and dissuades young people from receiving Holy Communion regularly. Unfortunately, this Mass is here to stay—our solution is to encourage the youngsters to receive at that late Mass if they must go to it regularly."
