

Catholic High Youth To Set up Dry Night Club

A Catholic Youth Club, as a meeting place and a dry night club for Catholic high school students, will be established at the first meeting of the Inter-High Council of Rochester Catholic High Schools this week.

"We have been working toward this goal for three years," said Eddie Zeloff, president of the council, and members at their first meeting. "We hope that our long search for rent space and necessary financial support will be successfully in a short time."

Remaining activities for its fourth year, the council, composed of 40 delegates from the Catholic and public high schools of the city, began plans for a series of recreational projects throughout the school year. Distribution of 2,000 membership cards to Catholic high schoolers this month will set the stage for an Inter-High Dance on Halloween Eve at the Edgerton Park

Sports Arena. Other plans include roster-making parties, a style show, hayloft dances, formal dances and a retreat for students of public high schools.

Founded in 1944 by the Rev.

Walter A. Fischer, director of the C.Y.O., Rev. J. Joseph O'Connell of Nazareth Academy and Rev. John T. Conahan of Mercy High School, the Inter-High Council has attempted to meet the social problems of the Catholic high school students of the city and service for the association of the various schools in citywide recreational activities. Each year several large banquets have been conducted successfully. In 1946 the council sponsored the concert of the famed Tripp Family in Rochester.

The roster of officers for this year is: Gene Ehrin, Aquinas, president; Marlene Valeria Mer-zoli, Nazareth, secretary; Robert Dugan, Aquinas, treasurer.
