Aquinas Hopes High for Erie Victory; Record Crowd Sees Texans Held to 38-32

Big Ted McCloskey romps around St. James of Texas and to pay dirt and first touchdown for Aquinas in thrilling game ending 38-32 in favor of the Texans before 21,000 in Red Wing Stadium.

The Irish gridgers of Aquinas Institute face Cathedral Prep of Erie at the Red Wing Stadium this Sunday afternoon with two big reasons for a victory-appetite: Erie beat the Maroon last year 13-12, and the St. James Redskins of Texas ruined this year's unbeaten record for the Irish by 38-32 in a thrill-packed battle before 21,024 fans last Sunday.

In perfect summery weather, the largest crowd ever to witness a sports spectacle in Rochester saw an amazing display of classic football as the Irish bowed to Texas. Both teams scored in each quarter with plays that featured deceptive ballhandling and long passes.

The Irish who battled into the lead three times and scored only 6 less points than all the Texas opponents have made in 42 games, were called the "best of" by Dell Coe the St. James coach. Spectacular and game often in defeat, Aquinas made many new friends as the record crowd saw their polished T-formation and aerial tactics lead to the first score within 3 minutes of kick-off and 5 other exciting touchdowns in the topsyturvy struggle.

THE ST. JAMES team visited Rochester in a chartered plane on the end of a Northern trip that has added 3 victories to their record of 44 straight wins. Although no stronger than Aquinas defensively, the Texans showed speed, deception and precision that would shame larger and older college teams. The Irish matched them play for play until the last quarter when two bad breaks put the Redskins 12 points ahead.

Led by Dick Gardemal, 150 pound quarterback who completed 12 out of 14 passes to partner Karl Holter who could run like a graceful deer in deceptive reverses, the Texans never made a mistake. The margin of error that pulled Aquinas from its unbeaten pedestal was a fumbled kick and two intercepted passes. Individual stars for Aquinas were Ed McCloskey and Della Villa who scored 2 touchdowns apiece. Billy Grief who made spectacular long runs, Paul Burns and Bill Haggerty who sparked the line play and Quarterback Ryan who chose the plays and completed 10 out of 13 passes.

Erie brings a big team that lost to Texas last week by only 14 although scouts report that the St. James boys were playing under wraps in anticipation of the Aquinas game. Boasting a line that averages over 180 pounds and a small but speedy backfield, Cathedral Prep has power and deception that will give Aquinas another hard fight and will probably attract another 20,000 crowd.

An important feature of each week's game has been the halftime entertainment provided by the 60-man Aquinas Marching Band directed by Raymond Hasenauer and featuring a male quartet of Jerry Deane, Bill Weidenmiller, Charlie Kiek and Frank Sibillo.

Last Sunday when the band played "Deep in the Heart of Texas" while spelling out a big "TEXAS" on the field, little Bobby Mirquet, 5 year-old Aquinas mascot made a dramatic entrance. Dressed in full cowboy regalia, from a 10 gallon hat to leather chaps and high heeled boots, Bobby charged across the infield shooting a cap-pistol. While the crowd howled with laughter he "shot up" Director Hasenauer, the singing quartet and a photographer before retreating to the dressing room to redon his full football suit to lead the team on the field for the second half.
