Erie Tacklers in Stadium Action

Fishing Contest Closes Oct. 31

Fishermen in New York State have one month left to enter their catches in the World Fishing Contest, Louis A. Wehle announces.

Eight classifications of fish are still eligible during the month of October: large and small mouth bass, northern and walleyed pike, pickerel, muskellunge, perch, and rock bass.

Wehle also said that competition for the unusual fishing achievement award of $50.00 was still wide open because of the relatively few entries in this classification during the 1947 con-

Detroit Central With Ciesielski Loom As Threat to Aquinas Stadium March

Worried by advance reports that Detroit is bringing a bigger and heavier team than they have met this year and that Dick Ciesielski, double-threat racing halfback, is more polished than when he led a 25-20 victory over the Irish in '46, the gridlers of Aquinas Institute have worked into the late hours this week to prepare for the invasion of Detroit's Catholic Central High team at the Red Wing Stadium on Sunday afternoon.

"The Detroit Shamrocks have a line that outweighs ours and a dangerous passing attack," Coach Harry Wright told his boys this week as he drummed into them "We have never beaten Central." Probing the mistakes of last Sunday's game with Erie when a sagging line and a weak pass defense almost gave victory to the visitors in the closing minutes of the game, Wright has scrimmaged his team all week and emphasized defensive mea-
