

Wonder Worker Shrine Proposed

Rev. Dr. James J. Connelley, pastor of St. Mary's church, is sponsoring a shrine to Our Lady of the Sign, a devotion to the Virgin Mary, in the new St. Mary's church, which is being built on the site of the old St. Mary's church, which was destroyed by fire in 1936.

The shrine is to be a place of devotion to the Virgin Mary, who is believed to have appeared to St. John the Evangelist on the island of Patmos, Greece, in the year 960.

Women Must Back Decency Legion Avers Mrs. Loomam

"Catholic women have a moral duty to strengthen the influence of the Legion of Decency in their homes and communities," Mrs. James E. Loomam, leading lay member of the Legion of Decency, told the members of the Catholic Women's Club of Rochester at a meeting held at the club on Monday night.

"The Legion of Decency is a moral force in our community," Mrs. Loomam declared. "You should be interested in the good morals of your community. So you cannot ignore your responsibility to the Legion of Decency. We Catholic women must think and act together to insure clean and wholesome screen entertainment."

As motion picture chairman of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, Mrs. Loomam spoke of "The Legion of Decency—its aims and influence." Mrs. Loomam, assisted by a large committee headed by Mrs. Louis A. Whelan, president of the Catholic Women's Club, was the dinner chairman.

In an interview following her talk, Mrs. Loomam revealed that her work with the Legion of Decency began in 1934, almost ten years before the Legion of Decency was founded by the American Bishops. "The original policy of the IFCA," she said, "was not to condemn a picture openly by public lists but to recommend highly the better movies of the day. Our original policy was to all out schools and libraries associated with our schools. But the Bishops and the public wanted reviewing that was stronger."

Since the first publication of the Legion of Decency listings, Hollywood has respected the power of the Legion, but has often attempted to feature a picture in open defiance of the Church.

O'Brien, Boyer In Food Drive Radio Appeal

New York (NC) — Pat O'Brien, Hollywood star, will take the leading role in a radio drama, "It's Up To You," over the American Broadcasting Company on November 29, at 10 p. m., E.S.T., in support of the "Thanksgiving Food Collection" being conducted by War Relief Services—National Catholic Welfare Conference during the week of November 23-30.

The play was written specially to aid the nation-wide appeal for food to be made in 10,000 parishes throughout the United States.

At the same time War Relief Services—N.C.W.C., has announced that Charles Boyer will star in a special program in the intermission of the drive. He will appear on the Family Theater program on November 27 at 10 p. m. E.S.T.

MORE THAN 2,000,000 school children and 600,000 volunteer workers throughout the nation have offered their services in the drive and are now ready to collect the canned food stuffs. Magr. Edward E. Swannstrom, W.R.S.—N.C.W.C. executive director, stated, adding that many parishes have already started collecting food stuffs toward reaching the agency's goal of 25,000,000 cans.

"The picture of conditions overseas, as portrayed by persons returned from the famine areas, has done much to stimulate the desire on the part of American Catholics to participate in this campaign," the Monsignor asserted. He added:

"The record of American Catholics is an inspiring example for all to follow in their efforts to stem the rising tide of starvation throughout the world. The food collected in our campaign will soon be on its way overseas and every can will mean a meal to some starving man, woman or child. But we must not cease in our effort to loosen the stranglehold of disease and starvation raging over there."

The food will be sent to Europe and the Far East, wherever it is possible to send it and where it is needed, Monsignor Swannstrom said War Relief Services—N.C.W.C. will supervise the distribution aided by local relief agencies.

65 and No Home Mother's Plight Stresses Need to Provide for Aged

By GEORGE W. MONTGOMERY, JR.
Rochester Catholic Charities

Mrs. C. held herself proudly as she said, "They're all good children—all eight of them. It's not their fault they have no room for me." The tears stood in her eyes, and her voice trembled, despite the valiant effort she made to hide her emotion.

A widow, the mother of eight grown children, Mrs. C. now in the late sixties, had no place to go. All her children were married. They had homes of their own. And there was no room for their aged mother.

Once the number of people over the age of 65 in our population was relatively small. In 1930, only about 10 per cent of the population were in this group. By 1940 the number had increased so that about 7 per cent of our people were over 65. By 1950, if present trends continue, nearly 15 per cent of our population will be above that age. That is why it has been said that we have an "aging population."

OF COURSE, the place of each of these individuals in our society must be determined by his ability to function, not by chronological age. Everyone knows that some individuals at 65 are youthful, vigorous, active and independent. Others are no longer able to be completely self-supporting.

"It must be remembered that the man or woman 65 or older has a future as well as a past," says Miss Frances McGory, Catholic Charities worker for older people. "Because of their experience and their maturity, they are in a position to contribute much to society. They are entitled to make as big a contribution to society as their abilities permit. At the same time, they are entitled to special consideration by society to which they have contributed for so many years."

Many do face the situation Mrs. C. described. Left a widow while her children were young, she had struggled to maintain her family. Now she was unable to support herself, she found that her children all claimed they could do nothing to help her.

It was a pathetic situation for Mrs. C., but how pathetic for her children! For they are failing in the duty to parents commanded by God. Their children

Hungary Unit Suspends Nun For 'Slur' on Soviet

Washington (NC) — Press reports in this country stating that "Miss" Margaret Schlahta was suspended from the Hungarian parliament because of an alleged slur against the Soviet Union, failed to mention that the member of parliament is a nun and the founder of the Sisters of Social Service active in two archdioceses and three dioceses in the U. S.

The reports also failed to state that during the war she was twice arrested and given a prison sentence for "offending" the Nazis.

According to the press reports, Mother Schlahta proposed a ban on Darwin's "Origin of Species" because, she explained, it taught that the human body consisted of nothing but chemicals and chemicals, she said, might be asked as reparations by the Soviet Union.

During the Hungarian alignment with the axis Mother Schlahta was twice arrested and given a prison sentence because she used language offensive to the Germans. Both sentences were dismissed by the Supreme Court of Hungary.

Nun in Union, Concert Goes On

Ottawa (NC) — A broadcast by the Notre Dame Convent Choir went on as scheduled here when the accompanist, a nun, met requirements of the American Federation of Musicians by producing a membership card in the union.

Prior to the broadcast, the radio station informed arrangements of the program that a member of the union must be present either to accompany the choir or as a standby. The first broadcast was not affected when it developed that the accompanist, Sister St. Francis of Notre Dame Convent, Kingston, a well-known organist, was a member in good standing of Local 802, New York, of the AFL musicians' federation.
