Missions Sent Yule Gifts By Mercy Students

More than $400 worth of Christmas gifts in food and clothing for the missions of Japan and Korea have been sent overseas by students of Our Lady of Mercy High School.

The girls of the Blossom Road school also contributed 250 toys for orphaned and underprivileged children of Rochester and canned food for the poor.

Twenty-three boxes of supplies were packed and shipped overseas to orphanages at Osaka and Kobe and to the cloistered Carmelites in Korea. Included in each box for the missions were 60 pounds of sugar, cereals and cocoa, cases of soup, canned meat loaf, salt, 25 pounds of beans, coffee and milk. Children's clothing, colored yarn and notions were also a part of each package.

THE CARMELITE Convent in Korea will receive parcels of the same supplies in addition to new blankets and towels through the generosity of the Mercy girls.

In a carton designated for the South Dakota Indian Missions, the girls have packed toys, socks, mittens, combs, tooth paste and candy as well as tobacco, red bandanas, yarn and notions. They also sent a box containing shaving cream, socks, gloves, handkerchiefs and cigarettes for the priests, and another parcel of useful articles for the sisters.

The toys and food for local charity were collected at the annual Golden Mass celebrated by the Rev. John T. Callahan. Each member of the student body, according to custom, brought a gift of toys, canned foods, or money to the Golden Mass for this purpose.

Catholic Charities will distribute the toys to children in Rochester and the food will go to St. Joseph's House of Hospitality.

'LAID HIM IN MANGER'

Climaxing the Christmas pageant in Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral, Sunday, the "Infant" is laid in the manger. Sheila O'Brien representing the Blessed Mother is surrounded by "angels," also pupils at Sacred Heart School.

1,000 View Nativity Pageant At Sacred Heart Cathedral

"Is there a place really in our heart for the Infant King," asked the Rev. Thomas McManus, C.SS.R. speaking at the Christmas pageant in Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral which he described as symbolic of the "moment dramatic moment in the history of the world."

Presiding at the pageant was His Excellency, Bishop James E. Kearney. His assistant deacons were the Rev. Francis Taylor and the Rev. Vincent LaFrois. In the Sanctuary also were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George V. Burns, the Rev. William T. Nolan, the Rev. Edward McAniff and the Rev. Michael O'Brien.

Preceded by singing of Christmas hymns and Carols by Sacred Heart Men's and Boy Scouts choirs under the direction of Raymond J. Hasenauer of Aquinas Institute faculty and reading of "The Annunciation," and "The Nativity" by Father Nolan, the pageant highpoint came with the entrance of the "Blessed Mother and angels."

As the school children representing the Blessed Mother and angels walked slowly down the center aisle, a brass quartette from Aquinas Institute was heard in fanfare and "Adeste Fidelis."

When the Infant was laid in the manger by Sheila O'Brien as the Blessed Mother, the lights were darkened and the throng of more than 1,000 knelt at the manger, erected before the main altar.

As on the night of Christ's birth the world today has few to receive Him, Father McManus said in explaining the significance of the pageant. The Redemptorist Father pointed to the fact that in America today, only 40 of 140 million practice any religion. The United Nations, he said, in their deliberations have no room for prayer, not room for the King of Peace in their work for peace.

Instead of the red and white robes of Santa Claus, symbolic of present observance of Christ's Nativity, Father McManus urged to "place in our hearts, One robed in red of sacrifice and receive Him across the snow white altar cloth in our hearts in Holy Communion."

New Year's Day Program Set at St. Boniface Hall

A New Year's Party will be held on New Year's Day at St. Boniface parish hall with Bill O'Brien and his orchestra presiding on the stand. Program will include a floor show, dancing and refreshments. Admission is one dollar.

Maryknoll Missioner Listed At St. Patrick's Banquet

Holly, mistletoe and poinsettia will beautifully decorate Saint Patrick's Hall for the annual Christmas Banquet sponsored by the Rosary Society on Sunday, December 28 at 6:30 P. M. in the Church Hall. Parishioners and friends of Saint Patrick's will gather around a Christmas tree to exchange holiday greetings and to renew old acquaintances.

The Rev. Charles Hilbert, Maryknoll Missionary and former Rochesterian, who has spent many years in China, will be the guest speaker. Priest of the parish, the Rev. Leo C. Mooney, pastor, and assistant pastors, Rev. Bartholemew J. O'Brien and Rev. Nicholas P. Alletto, together with the Very Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall and the Rev. James F. O'Connell will be guests of honor.

Miss Marcella L. Sigler, president, Mrs. Christopher Delanty, vicepresident, Miss Josephine Fedele, financial secretary, and Miss Mary Monroe, recording secretary, will serve as a reception committee.

An invitation is extended to the parishioners and friends of Saint Patrick's to join the Rosarians for this gala occasion.

Holy Apostles Children Appear in Nativity Play

Children of Holy Apostles parish presented their annual Christmas play last week before a large audience of parishioners. The story brought out the contrast between the poor shepherds and the rich oriental kings who came to see the new-born King. The theme developed was that neither wealth nor power can buy love or contentment or God.
