THE ITO, however, is threatened by the Taft-Hartley Act. The ITO is a craft union. It needs the closed shop. Without some way of preventing cheap labor from taking over the printing work, the ITO would go out of business. If the ITO does breakup, employers will find themselves in the hands of the Taft-Hartley Act says that they cannot have the closed shop.

IN LONDON where I later was named Minister of the Interior of our government in exile. My first job was to reorganize the Polish underground. Its morale was at the lowest ebb. It had survived both German and Russian invaders, bolstered by the hope that the British and French forces would soon sweep the enemies from our land. But the fall of France and the rupture of the B. E. F. crushed all hope.

Britain's back was to the wall. There remained only the neutral but essentially sympathetic United States to turn to for help. So in April of 1941 Gen. Sikorski and I journeyed to Canada, to arrange with Mackenzie King to permit Canadian and U. S. Poles to train as Canadian soldiers. And then we came down to Washington to see President Roosevelt.

I recall my great surprise at discovering that he was an English lord, but I was struck by his vigor and frankness—especially in his ringing condemnation of the Soviet forces which, only a short time later, he was to feel he could do business with.

ROOSEVELT FRANKNESS to include Poland in the newly founded Lend-Lease program, and then visited London and met to visit U. S. cities where there were concentrations of Polish-Americans.

Why Does Church Claim to Rule on True Marriage?
Has Civil Authority Right to Regulate Marriage?
Is Prescribed Prayer Necessary for Indulgence?

With these distinctions in mind, we then now give the Church's stance regarding the power of the whole, integral: absolution completes the manner of the Sacrament, and is the only sacramental element of the sacrament.
