Christophers Urge Study Of Constitution

New York -(NC)- An appeal has gone out to supporters of al effort in restoring Christian values to every phase of American life - to urge their states to adopt I wa requiring specific instruction in the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

This appeal followed the discuvery that such specific instruction is required in only eight of the 48 states of the Union, according to information obtained by the Rev. James Keller of Mary knoil, lounder of the Christophers, from the to S. office of Mucation.

The eight states where teaching of the Declaration is obligatory are California, Illinois, Minnesota, New Jersey, New Mexico, Penn sylvania, Virginia and Wisconsin.

PATHER KELLER also AP pealed to all Christophers to persuade every organization to which they belong "to concentrate on the one objective" of having the basic principles, set forth in these documents, taught and respected in all schools, and to encourage as many persons as possible who are firmly convinced of these principles to dedicate themselves to a career in teaching.

"Strive hard," Father Keller urged, "to preserve in all fields the basic American teaching that our rights are God-given. This is far more effective than merely being against subversive groups now working in our midst to destroy our country. These groups are fighting to make the Declaration a dead letter, because it lays down the fundamental American principle that weeklies to annuals, whose cir prime purpose of the state is to
