Disloyalty Proof Asked By Prelate

Manchester, N.H. — (NC) — So-called liberals and small minority groups who have inspired recent attacks against Catholics were criticized severely by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston, in a strongly-worded address here to the Knights of Columbus, whom he called upon to "give the lie to those who assert that a complete Catholic is less than 100 per cent American."

The Boston prelate spoke at the State dinner of the New Hampshire Knights of Columbus and leveled a great portion of his criticism against the newly-formed Protestants and Other Americans United for the Separation of Church and state.

Archbishop Cushing called upon the Knights to "close ranks round your Bishops and your priests" and to give "all men round to attack Catholics because of your imperfect Americanism."

"DEMONSTRATE, for all the world to see," the Archbishop exhorted, "that to be a good Catholic is to be a good American — and that to be a Catholic American is to be the best, the happiest, the most loyal person in this world or the next."

Archbishop Cushing said that we great and closely related phenomena are prevalent in the nation. One is the storm of talk against the Catholic Church, hierarchy and institutions, whipped up by a small, powerful minority of non-Catholics, chiefly clergymen. The other is a tempest of talk in behalf of the so-called civil liberties of Communists, Communist sympathizers and a communist idea. He stressed that often times those whose names appear in the lists of organizations against Catholics also appear among the "special plotters on behalf of the Red."

Archbishop Cushing made it plain he does not believe that the few Protestant clergymen whose names constantly appear on anti-Catholic and pro-Communist statements "speak for the larger and sadder element among our non-Catholic neighbors, but they do speak — and what they say is a threat to the future faith and freedom of our children — and what they say is being repeated with greater and greater insistence." He added that "even though they only speak for themselves, they must be answered and they shall be answered."

He congratulated the officers of the Knights of Columbus for their immediate denunciation of the manifesto issued by Protestants and Other Americans United.

ARCHBISHOP Cushing urged that all Catholics "read and ponder carefully" the answer to the manifesto issued by Archbishop John T. McNicholas, O.P., of Cincinnati, Chairman of the National Catholic Welfare Conference Administrative Board, and causticized that "all Catholic people especially Catholic men like yourselves, must be prepared to state the case for the Church and against the bigots if we are ever to silence the charge of Catholic disloyalty among people still so strongly influenced by anti-Catholic traditions and habits of thought."

He recalled an address he delivered last fall dealing with the separation of Church and State problem and said an anti-Catholic magazine commented editorially that some of the authorities he cited — Cardinals James Gibbons, Archbishop John Ireland, Msgr. John A. Ryan, former Gov.

Birth Controller

Starting the theme of "child spacing" in this month's magazine of Planned Parenthood will go to the author of this young Catholic family, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Walsh of Quincy, Mass., with six babies in less than five years. A happy tribute to the lasting joy of Catholic family life. Married in 1934, they have been having babies every eighteen months since William and John Jr. (right in the picture) arrived prematurely in October, 1944. In October, 1943, William graduated from Boston College. And just October, Kathleen Anne and Kevin Francis were born. The John and Alice Walsh, both veterans of World War II (they were gunners), escape in Mary and Sean Gould, respectively, the peasant world in a place where sexual knowledge proper to another time and level has blurred the job makes the long process. It takes a 12-hour day of nonstop work to keep up with six babies. "But, to us," say the Walshes, "the care of six babies is a blessed blessing of immensity. Who could wish to know the pleasure we derive from it. Our children give us joy—unquenchable joy. There is an indelible story with many chapters to be written through the years. But if you want to know the indelible story of greatest happiness, just listen to a group of children laughing." Adds Mrs. Walsh: "We think of pride of myself." — Photo by LOVETT — "American Family Magazine."

FATHER DOLAN FUNERAL HELD

Sixty-Fourth Requiem Mass was celebrated by His Excellency Bishop James E. Kearney for the Rev. Leonard J. Dolan, C.S.C., spiritual director of St. Basil's Novitiate in Sacred Heart Pre-Cathedral Saturday morning, Jan. 31.

Father Dolan, a priest and educator of the Basilians Congregation for 20 years, died in St. Mary's Hospital, Jan. 28, 1948. "Because of the consciousness that this disease owes him a debt of gratitude; and owes it also to his Community, I feel that as Bishop I should mark the passing of this first of the Sons of St. Basil to give his life in the service of God in this disease," Bishop Kearney declared in eulogizing Father Dolan.

It was not my privilege to know him very well personally; but I knew him very well from his work," the Bishop said.

The spiritual direction and care which this priest exercised His Excellency stated, reveals just what he has meant to the Congregation of the Sons of St. Basil. May I also say, on behalf of this Diocese that it is richer because of the contributions of his service.

"HIS GOING WILL be followed by the prayers not only of his Community, and the young men of Aquinas, but also of the religious of the diocese who have benefited from his generous ministrations."

Diocesan Air Pilgrimage To Vatican Scheduled

Monsignor James P. McAniff, S.T.D., chancellor of the Rochester Diocese, will lead a pilgrimage this summer in a 22-day tour of Europe's Catholic airways.

The pilgrimage, the first ever organized in the diocese since before the war, will leave New York early in July by air, through special arrangements with American Airlines. The group will fly to London where the tour will begin.

Monsignor McAniff, who prepared for the pilgrimage in Rome, is widely travelled and has a personal acquaintance with many of Europe's historic and religious sites.

During the 22 days which he and his group will spend in Europe, visits will be made to historic places in London, Amsterdam, Brussels, Paris, and Florence.

HIGHLIGHTS OF the tour will include visits to world famous shrines in Lourdes, Lourdes, and Rome. Climax of the trip will come at Rome where the pilgrimage group will have an audience with the Holy Father, Pope Pius XII.

Stressing the convenience of air travel, American Airlines officials also pointed out that use of the plane cuts down travel time, particularly across the ocean, and enables members of the pilgrimage to spend most of their 22 days in European sightseeing.

Reservations on the pilgrimage are necessarily limited. Airlines officials stated this week and urged those interested in joining Monsignor McAniff's group to make prompt inquiry.

Arrangements for the pilgrimage, which is called the European Catholic Shrine Tour, are being made through Kablitsch Travel Agency in Rochester.

The pilgrimage is tentatively scheduled to leave New York on July 4 and return on August 3.

Military Training Proposal Opposed

Washington — (NC) — A group of 21 prominent persons, including Bishop John J. Wright, Auxiliary of Boston, has charged that the Army is endangering the nation by unnecessarily asking for compulsory military training when a volunteer program is providing it with more than enough strength.

Stating that the Army's desire to maintain a peacetime force of 1,750,000 men, the group asserted that the Army already has volunteers numbering half a million more than that in the regular army and in the reserves. It criticized the army for allegedly neglecting the reserves by treating them simply as "names on a paper."

ON GUARD!

By REV. PATRICK J. FLINN

Two of Rochester's smartest labor chiefs — Mr. John Cooper (CIO) and Mr. Julius Loos (AFL) — are listed as the city's leading industrialists who they represent. Therefore, we made telephone calls this week to both of these union leaders. We promised to show them in this column why we think that Planned Parenthood is a movement detrimental and injurious to the best interests of organized labor.

IN FIGHTING FOR the rights of the rank-and-file workers, Messrs. Cooper and Loos are able campaigners. Even so, we feel sure that both these labor leaders have not sensed the social and economic dangers which the birth control doctrine has for family living tradeunionists.

Mr. Cooper and Mr. Loos, we are convinced, want to do

16 TRAPPISTS DIE IN CHINA

Washington — (NC) — The known death toll among the sixteen Trappist monks of Trappist Abbey, pell-mell and scattered by Chinese Communists, has risen to 16, according to word received here.

(According to earlier N.W.C.C. releases, some 70 monks held in the Trappist Abbey at Tang-ching were taken captive by the Reds last fall, when government forces advanced on that city; the 65-year-old abbot was burned, and most of the monks were killed immediately.)

Six of the dead are priests, the rest are brothers or laymen. Four of the priests were former foreign missionaries who had volunteered from the service appointed to that of prayer and penance as Trappists. Two Chinese priests have also died as a result of maltreatment by their Red captors.

The Trappists still held by Communists include 13 priests, Nuns, brothers or laymen who have been liberated and have reached Peking in a perilous condition. Some are missing in the frozen northlands.

The refugee group in Peking are now installed in a dairy farm on the outskirts of the city. The Papal Interlocutors in China, Archbishop Anthony Kiser, obtained this temporary house for them where they can resume their regular life of prayer and manual labor as a community.

German Children Fed

Frankfurt — (NC) — Well over one million German and DP children were guests of the American Army at Christmas eve, according to an official survey just completed official report on the welfare of displaced persons in Europe.

The survey, conducted by the American Council on Education, in which about half the parents giving their views voted to receive Federal help to non-profit private as well as public education.

"IN THE LIGHT of this fact, we as members of the association," they stated, "are convinced that it is our duty to state to the President of the United States and to the American public that this drastic recommendation by our private agencies and universities from receiving Federal funds does not reflect the thinking of the most representative cross section of American colleges and universities and will certainly have dangerous implications for the future welfare of both public and private higher education."

These findings, signed by Catholic and other private universities, came from the Association of American Colleges in Princeton, N.J.

Father Kearney, a native of Newark, was ordained October 24, 1924 and has been assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church since Nov. 4, 1944. He was educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., and at the University of Notre Dame.

He served as assistant pastor at St. Michael's Church, Newark, from 1928 to 1932, and then became pastor of St. Michael's Church, Newark, until 1941.
