Holy Rosary Post CWV acquired a new clubhouse for all post activities as they finished negotiations this week to purchase Rock's Bowling Hall, 731 Lake Ave., near Glenwood.

The new property of the Catholic Vets is a two-story building with large basement rooms for bowling. On the street floor there is a restaurant and grille and on the second floor an apartment which will be used by the building's caretaker.

The vets intend to continue the operation of the grille and bowling allies for public use while the basement will be developed into clubrooms for the post. Charles Nugent has been appointed manager of the new property.

The Holy Rosary Post, 2 years old in August, has 125 active members headed by James Ryan, post commander. Since their organization by the Rev. John S. Whalen, chaplain, they have used the Holy Rosary parish hall for meetings and social functions.

Webster Dinner Marks H. N. S. Silver Jubilee

Webster — The Holy Name of Jesus Christ is as powerful today as it was in the days of the Apostles. His Excellency Bishop Kearney told two hundred members of the Holy Trinity Holy Name Society who attended the society's Silver Jubilee Banquet Thursday evening (April 29) in the school hall.

The Holy Name Society was founded at Holy Trinity Parish by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. F. William Stauder, pastor at the time of the Webster parish, and now pastor of Holy Redeemer Church, Rochester.

Bishop Kearney, guest of honor at the banquet, stressed the importance of the Holy Name Society in the spiritual development of parish life and stated that conditions in other nations might not be so serious if priests in those countries had only organized their Catholic men into Holy Name societies.

Parish history was recalled in short talks by Monsignor Stauder and the Rev. Francis J. Hoeffen, pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Rochester, and also a former pastor of the Webster Church.

The Rev. George M. Kalb, present pastor of Holy Trinity, congratulated his men and extended a welcome to the Bishop. The Rev. Patrick J. Flynn, diocesan Holy Name director, stressed the importance of devotion to the Blessed Sacrament.

Charles A. Gores, president of the parish Holy Name men, greeted those present and Gerald R. Barrett acted as toastmaster.

Charities Head Urges Full Support For Chest

Need Shown In Reports Of 8 Catholic Agencies

To maintain the high standard of the eight Catholic agencies participating in the Rochester Community Chest during the 1948-1949 year, giving to the Chest must be higher, this year according to the Very Rev. Msgr. Gerald C. Lambert, director of Rochester Charities.

The eight Catholic agencies as well as the 38 other agencies getting financial aid through the Chest have a record for community service in the various fields, helping the aged, the ill, dependent children, preventing delinquency, keeping families together.

Chest campaigners and leaders are being supported by the appeal of Bishop Kearney to give generously in the campaign. A courteous reception of the campaigners and generous gifts are urged.

WITH THE building of the Community Youth Center in East Rochester, the Columbus Youth Association will have added need for financial support during the coming year. The East Rochester project sponsored by St. Jerome's parish comes under the direction of the Columbus Youth Association, a Community Chest agency.

(Financial and service reports of the agencies, elsewhere on this page tell of the need for extra giving this year.)

The slogan "Everybody Benefits—Everybody Gives" is being used to emphasize the community project in which the city will be engaged from May 10 to 17. Forty-six campaigns in one is stressed this year as there are that many agencies to benefit from the one campaign.

THE CATHOLIC Agencies to benefit will be called upon to give the type of service given during 1947. Rochester Catholic Charities served 2,109 families and 620 children in foster homes during 1927. The demand ahead will equal that if not surpass it.

Decorations are in charge of men and women received 71,299 days' care at St. Joseph's Villa on Dewey Ave., 42,884 days' care were given to 163 homeless, dependent and neglected children.

With the heavy demand on its services, St. Mary's Hospital reported 131,495 day's care and treatment to 15,015 patients.

In the youth department Columbus Youth Association offered a wide range of services to 3,680 men, women and boys and girls. The Charles Settlement House served 913 children and adults with a total attendance of 24,456. At Genesee Settlement House, the total attendance was 27,201 and the type of guidance needed was offered boys and girls attending.

Besides the various groups which benefit from the Chest other than Catholic operated agencies such as the Boy Scouts, The American Cancer Society, the Cerebral Palsy Association, Tuberculosis and Health League, Aid Society and others will require funds from generous people to maintain their role in the community.

Campaign workers point out that increasing demand for Red Feather aid means that it costs more to do more and higher costs at the present time mean "it costs more to do as much."
