Colonial Peoples Cleveland Discussed by Pope Goes To

By M. MASSIANI

Paris, July 29 - (NC) - Belief that Europe as the center of Christendom will continue to play a role of prime importance in the advent of a world fraternally renewed in the standards of the Gospel is expressed by His Holiness Pope Plus XII in a message to the French Catholic Social Week meeting at Eyon

Referring to the theme of the Social Week, Overseas Peoples and Western Civilization" the Holy Father discusses the aspirations of colonial people for independence and social justice and the contribution that western civilization based upon Christianity has made to their enlightenment and progress.

"WHO DOES NOT see," His Holiness asks, "that the disaster without precedent from which we are emerging has not only threatened our civilization but has caused among the faithest people overseas a commotion and an unrest the consequences of which cannot be calculated""

His Holiness rejoices that the Social Week, by bringing together for discussion on the basis of Christian principle leading authorities on the relation of west ein civilization to the colonial peoples will make a genuine contrabution to a problem that is of flist importance in the world to

"Aspirations for independence animate many of these peoples today. His Houness observes. Their participation in the war has made them conscious of their. value. But this transformerian cipation, accompanied as it often is by violence, is not without dan get when one considers the weak. ness of the western powers which. by their vocalion as messengers conferred upon them of being elder sisters to the continents and peoples iying in the darkness and the shadow of death
