Back Parish Affairs, HN Men Urged

Support of parish functions as the first step in Catholic activity was stressed Sunday by Martin Q. Moll of the K. of C. Speakers Bureau at a Communion breakfast of the Holy Apostles Church Holy Name Society.

Speaking on "Christians Must Be Builders," Moll drew the sharp distinction between the philosophies of Christian construction and anti-Christian destruction. One is built on love, he noted, the other on hate.

"Strong bodies of Catholic men," he asserted, "must step forward to accept a share in the constructive work of their faith—to be the sculptors of the new world of tomorrow."

Holy Apostles parish is currently making an effort to augment funds for a new convent.
