At Our House A Boost in Morale

By MARY TINGLE DAILY Summer is definitely over now, with its too-long vacation. The children - all but Virginia - are back in school so that winter routine with its semblance of order can set in at our house.

"Not at first," I hesitated, recalling the day I had told Markie she must take this "strengthening" six weeks course at a public summer school.

"AND SHE FOUND that a great many of her classmates had failed the fifth grade while she had skinned by, so that she was in the upper bracket."

"I can see by that report card that she won her treat," smiled Sister Agnes Angela, "and she's carrying over those work habits into the sixth grade. It has been good for her."

LAY APOSTLES FOR CHINA

"OUR PREPARATION for tomorrow started many yesterday's ago with the awareness of personal responsibility, the sense of alertness and initiative that come with participation in student governments."

Women's Viewpoint Idolatry in America

Oh, too too bad! You didn't recognize those four bars of music? Well it's Beethoven's third movement of his chamber music Etude in F-sharp major. But—for being such a charming ignoramus, Mrs. Pluff...

There is a certain vague and dull unhappiness with it all which the latest model car does not seem to assuage.

GRADUALLY HE WHIPS up his audience into a furious frenzy of anticipation "Folks, all you have to do is to guess the right song title and all these ice boxes shall be added unto you."

There exists among us an increasing idolatry of the material, of possessions. More and more we as a nation are coming to respect only the tangible and concrete, we strive chiefly for creature comforts, we serve only mammon.
