British to Hear Radio-Mass Christmas Eve

London — (NC) — The British Broadcasting Corporation, Britain's government-sponsored monopoly network, will broadcast a Mass for the first time at midnight on Christmas Eve. This is in line with a new policy suggested by the B.B.C.'s religious advisory committee.

The network will now feature regular Catholic, Church of England and Church of Scotland religious broadcasts. The plan is to be tried for a year as an experiment.

The Rev. Agnellus Andrew, O.F.M., the Catholic Hierarchy's representative on the B.B.C., said that such services as the Mass had not been broadcast before because of official hesitation in the face of their "inherent sacredness."

The new policy was adopted because of numerous requests from listeners, and will be a great boon to the sick and others unable to attend Mass in person.

FATHER ANDREW said that Catholic broadcasts — confined so far to studio talks — are aimed particularly at the 30,000,000 persons in this country who do not practice any religion. Their aim is to make people listen to the Church with respect and remove traditional misconceptions.

The B.B.C., he said, attempts no censorship of religious scripts nor does it bar Catholic speakers, nor ask for doctrine to be watered down. It insists only that no denomination be deliberately offended. In the amount of time given to religious broadcasting, Father Andrew compared B.B.C. to Radio Eireann and Vatican Radio.

In one week recently 16 hours of radio time were given to 26 religious broadcasts, he said. Surveys estimate that about 300,000 people listen to liturgical broadcasts, 500,000 to religious talks, 6,500,000 to hymn singing.

Holland Catholic Journalism Promoted

Nijmegen, Holland (RNS) — Holland's first Catholic Institute of Journalism has been opened here in Stella Maris, the main building of Nijmegen Catholic University.

L. Hanekroot, president of the Netherlands Association of Catholic Journalists, said the Institute would provide "an intensive contact with that spiritual and cultural life which a newspaperman has to write about."

"Out with bad comic books," say the cadets (and posters) at Bishop Quarter Military Academy, Oak Park, Ill., where an eighth grade student originated the campaign which is paying off in several ways. (NC Photos.)

Catholic Actress Takes Movie Contract to U. S. Court

Washington — (NC) — Joan Leslie, movie actress, has asked the U. S. Supreme Court to reconsider its refusal to review her case involving a contract dispute with Warner Brothers, movie producers.

Miss Leslie, a Catholic became involved in the dispute when she refused to play a role which she considered immoral, in a movie.

In her petition, she pointed out that she signed a six-year contract in 1942 when she was a minor, aged 17. She contended that when she reached the age of 21 she should no longer be bound by a minor's contract.

The movie studio sued and won the case in the California Supreme Court and the U. S. Supreme Court last month refused to interfere.

In a new petition filed with the highest tribunal, Miss Leslie contends that the studio had allowed her contract to expire last February 29. Warner Brothers have used a court order to restrain Miss Leslie from appearing in any movies made by other firms without their consent.

New Decency League Scans German Films

Frankfurt, Germany (NC) — A Legion of Decency, patterned after the American organization, has been formed by a Catholic group in Heidelberg which posts reviews of current films on church bulletin boards.

At the same time a recommendation was adopted by the ministers of education of the three western zones of occupation to form a board composed of film producers, parents, representatives and delegates of the Churches, which would discharge functions similar to those of the Motion Picture Association of America, headed by Eric Johnston, in seeking to eliminate objectionable films.

Radio Plays on 433 Stations 'Sell' Daily Family Prayer

The Family Theater Program—a marvel of the radio world because it has lived over two years on charity and sells only one product, family prayer — expects to gain thousands of listeners by a new shift of time. Formerly heard each Thursday night at 10 p.m., it is now aired Wednesday evenings at 9:30 p.m. over Rochester's WVET and Auburn station WMBO.

Produced by Father Patrick Peyton, C.S.C., who is also national director of the "Daily Family Rosary Crusade", the weekly drama is carried on 433 stations of the Mutual Network and to U. S. occupation forces overseas by Armed Forces Radio Service. Each week two Hollywood stars act in a family-play and another movie celebrity, as host of the evening, speaks briefly on the value and need of family prayer.

THE REV. William J. Naughton, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Elmira, is this Sunday's speaker for the "Elmira Catholic Hour", broadcast from WENY at 12:15 p.m. each Sunday. Produced by the priests of the Elmira Deanery, the weekly quarter-hour treats of fundamental Catholic doctrines and their relation to man's modern needs.

THE HEAVENLY connection between the Blessed Mother's apparitions at Lourdes in 1858 and her appearances at Fatima in Portugal in 1917 is the theme of a new series of programs called "Act Two of the Story of Fatima" heard each Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. over Rochester WSAY. Father Joseph Cirrincione relates the fascinating details of both wonderful visits of Our Lady and proves the value of her messages for our age.

At 5:30 p.m. on WSAY each Sunday the little girls of Father Cirrincione's church, St. Francis of Assisi, broadcast by transcription their weekly storyhour in the Parish Center. Currently they are hearing "The Children of Fatima".

SACRED HEART Program, the only daily religious offering on diocesan stations is aired by Rochester's WRNY each weekday at 12:15 p.m. and each Sunday at 8:45 a.m.
