Teen Talks Be Gentle with Juniors

By NORMA DE PREZ

It is inevitable! Every Friday night, at just about five minutes before your date is transformed from the living room into a federal garrison. His enemy is lurking behind the green chair. The get-away car is waiting in readiness by the stairway. At any moment now, Killer McCoy and his band of black-hearted bad men will loot the Last National Bank, (which is located somewhere between the bridge lamp and the coffee table).

The seconds tick volubly by and then... The doorbell. That is the signal. Special agent #28 springs into action. In one snatching moment, your escort has been attacked, felled and gagged. His glowing captor retreats to survey the situation with a triumphant smirk.

YOU ARE mortified. Your date's tie and sportcoat are in a sad state of disarray. As Mother comes in to send Junior Gorman off to bed, and restore domestic tranquility, she knows why mothers get gray. But wait, Susie sub-deb let's have a cessation of hostilities and call this "Be kind to the Junior Members of the Family Week." The little comes may sometimes be annoying, but it

Now Many War False Teeth With More Comfort

FASTTEETH, a pleasant alkaline tooth-powder, holds false teeth most firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort, wear a little FASTTEETH on your plates. No more pow, sea, taste of fattening. Check "false odor." Dentures breathe! Get FASTTEETH at any drug store.

PLAN 17 MORE NCC S UNITS

Plans for the enlargement of the National Catholic Community Service program as a result of the reactivation of USO were discussed at a meeting of the NCCS National Executive Committee. NCCS will establish programs in 17 communities throughout the nation by January 1, 1949, and will open a club in Anchorage, Alaska. Committee members pictured left to right: John F. Hickey, of New York; Francis P. Matthews, of Omaha, Neb., committee chairman; James S. Mitchell, executive secretary of the National Council of Catholic Men; Thomas D. Hinton, NCCS Executive Director; the Most Rev. Bryan J. McElreath, Bishop of Ogdensburg, N. Y., Secretary and the Rt. Rev. Mgr. Howard J. Carroll, General Secretary of the NCWC. (NC Photos)

Scottish Youth Hostel Founder Lauds Courier

A parish priest in Scotland who has an outstanding parish considers the Courier-Examiner "amazingly helpful and most interesting," he writes to the diocesan newspaper, this week.

Encouragement for his work which is attracting widespread interest in Scotland came to him, the Rev. Michael McGovern, pastor of St. Michael the Archangel (Catholics), Linlithgow, writes, when he read the Holy Father's address to the Italian clergy of rectitude of parish property for leisure time activity of youth.

A holiday hostel for visiting youth clubs is one feature of the unique parish activity carried on by Father McGovern's parish, according to the Catholic Scottish Herald, copy of which was received this week.

In addition, this parish, not overburdened with world goods, provides a recreation hall, two hard tennis courts, a putting green, football and hockey pitches and a small arena for outdoor concerts.

Women's Viewpoint Party For-er-Adolph

MARIE WEIDMAN

The boys felt uncomfortable, terribly clean, Sundayish and vaguely ridiculous as they approached the Party. Each lad, with his fresh tonsure of a crew cut, his strangulating little host, kept hoping there would be enough pink cake and ice cream after the slow torture of Drop the Hankie and Silly Silly Sauer.

The little girls were happy. They were complete with Margaret O'Brien dresses and permanents by Toni, chattered excitedly as they reminded each other that they MUST remember to call their little host Adolph and not Little Stinker, his current cognomen among members of the Third Grade B reading group.

EVERY NERVOUS guest quickly thrust his birthday gift into Little Stinker's fat fist, after what seemed like a moment of quick calculation, he nodded "OK ya can all come on." The girls fluffed their hair, the boys pulled on their jackets, everyone stared foolishly at each other as they awaited the inevitable Adults With Games.

Girls who come to the hostel begin their day with Mass which is followed by breakfast in the hall. The morning is spent in various outdoor activities. In the afternoon there is boating on the lake or an organized hike. Conducted tours to Edinburgh's historical spots are frequent.

Blankets For His Body
 See the Christ Child in the shivering, homeless and starving little children of the Holy Land. Can you give two dollars and fifty cents to purchase a blanket for them? Thousands and thousands must live in the open in this wintry weather. Your gift will keep Christ in His homeland.

CHAPEL IN RUINS, PRIEST PLEADS
 We want to open a new mission in Iran, called Mon Ecole, but listen to what Bishop Cheikh has to say.

OUR NEEDEST
 We would need every page of this paper to tell our needs at Christmas. Won't you make a "stringless" gift your gift for ORPHAN'S BREAD or for the DAMIAN LEPER FUND your deposit in MARY'S BANK for needy Near East missions your dollar for the CHARITABLE ORPHAN STUDENT SUPPORT CLUB, the Bastians, for orphan schools the Monica Guild to replace littered vestments—all this is sweetest charity. We know you will open the door of our generous heart to us at Christmas.

FIRST FRIDAY
 This is the particular devotion of those Fathers of the Sacred Heart at Khartoum in the Sudan, Africa. Father Baroni has 570 orphans there and he asks $200 for them at Christmas. Won't you help?

ALMOST FORGOT
 But could we? Have you clothes you can spare? Send them to the Catholic Near East warehouse, 52-15 Flushing Avenue, Maspeth, L. I., N. Y. We need them for the homeless refugees of Palestine. Ten dollars for a food package will be deeply appreciated.

CHRISTMAS ORDER
 Food for poor Father Dusky's people in Berlin for the refugees of Father Nicholas in other parts of Germany, for Palestine. We are staggering under this burden. What ever a dollar towards a package will mean. Oh, please do help us.

GETTING LATE
 Write for our free Gift Card Circular at once. You may want to send the card to friends and loved ones at Christmas. This is a great way to help the missions.

EVEN GREEKS!
 Twenty years ago the Catholic youth of Athens started a St. Vincent de Paul Society. Now 135 young men go out to the poor, but their hands are awful empty. What a blessed Christmas gift you can give God's poor. If you send them a mite. They beg for $500 to do their work. Please help.

DEAR GABRIELLE
 Sister Gabrielle has spent one year of her novitiate with these zealous missionaries, the Sisters of Perpetual Help in another year, she will be out among our poor people of Lebanon. She is just twenty-five. Can you make her your adopted daughter in Christ and give $150 needed for her training?

GOD'S CHIMES
 The little bell which heralds Christ's coming at Mass can be purchased for four dollars. Help your Bethlehem by giving it to a needy chapel.

SUDDEN DEATH
 Are you thinking of insurance for eternity? Write for information on our plan to offer the thirty Gregorian Masses after your death.

HAVE YOU?
 Have you seen "HOW CAN I HELP?" which gives prices of stored articles you can give to needy Near East mission chapels?
