Pressure on Church Said Growing in Czechoslovakia

Prague - (RNS) - Offers of financial subsidies to the Catholic Church in Czechoslovakia are being held out by the Communist-dominated government as a bait to secure control of ecclesiastical appointments, according to Czech Catholic sources.

AT THE SAME time, anti-Church pressure was said to be growing, especially in Slovakia, where the Catholic Church is regarded as the sole effective center of opposition to Communist policies. Already one university has been obliged to discontinue courses in church law in the first three semesters.

In addition, chapels have been ordered closed in all State boarding schools, circulation of papal encyclicals forbidden, almost all Catholic periodicals suppressed, and young school children organized in labor battalions on Sundays to keep them from attending Mass.

ONE THEOLOGICAL seminary has been forced to suspend, and others are expected to share the same fate. It is also reported that Slovak bishops due to make ad limina (to the threshold) visits to Rome have been denied official permission to leave the country. In Moravia, the Communist "Liberation Fighters Organization" is demanding a purge of
