Apparitions of Blessed Virgin Reported by Carmelite

 just as Carmelite Sisters anywhere. Could they all be deceived? No; I cannot believe that!

"WHILE WAITING outside I had noticed from time to time a strong scent of roses. At first I thought it was perfume, but it came to my nostrils again and again; one time I sensed it even in the room. When I mentioned the phenomenon to three youngsters; they rather sheepishly admitted they had, too but thought it was their imagination. On the other hand, there were some who hadn't noticed anything.

"I told the Sisters of my unusual sensation and they laughed with joy, saying: 'The Blessed Mother said that the scent of roses was a sign of her presence.'"

Father Patrick says the Mother Prioress had the postulant Teresa wrap up a petal for him while he looked on.

"There is a great deal more that I could divulge," Father Patrick concludes, "but I hesitate to do so because it is so extraordinary."

"The young girl who received the visions is the daughter of a former governor of Balangasin Province," he says. "She met with a good deal of opposition when she wanted to enter Carmel; in fact, she ran away from home to do it and the family is raising Cain about it. I have been told that a Dominican doctor has examined her and was well satisfied with her response."

Bishop Offers Requiem For Monsignor E. A. Rawlinson

 Christ-like character, the Bishop told of the zeal and courage he displayed in the 1902 small-pox epidemic when he was chaplain of the Hope Hospital in Rochester.

"ALL PATIENTS of every faith found consolation from his lips and presence. He insisted on taking all risks for the love of God, to be with the sick and dying. At the price of getting the fatal disease, he voluntarily lived in the pest house to be near the sick."

Citing the honor of his elevation to the rank of Domestic Prelate in the Pope's household which came to Monsignor Rawlinson in the fiftieth year of his priesthood, Bishop Kearney called it "a seal of approval for a noble career, a gesture on the part of the Church and the Holy Father for a life well served."

Born in Liverpool, England, in 1873 Monsignor Rawlinson came to the United States at the age of eight and attended Immaculate Conception School in Ithaca followed by studies in St. Andrew's and St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester.

HE WAS ordained in June, 1898, a member of the sixth ordination class of St. Bernard's. Four other surviving members of that class are Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas F. Connors, pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church, Rt. Rev. Msgr. George V. Burns, pastor of Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral, the Rev. James B. Keenan of St. Anne's Home and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. B. Barbler of New Orleans. La They observed the golden jubilee of their ordination this summer.

First appointed as assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, St. Morris and St. Mary's Church, Rochester, Monsignor Rawlinson was named vice-chancellor of the diocese in February, 1910 and chaplain of the St. Patrick's and St. Mary's Orphanages.

He was appointed to the pastorate of St. Patrick's in 1921 and has been held in high honor in Corning for his zealous parochial administration, for his interest in the youth of his parish and for generous participation in all civic activities.

NAMED A DOMESTIC Prelate by Pope Pius XII on Oct. 10, 1947, he was invested with the Monsignor's robes at the Sacred Heart Pro-Cathedral on Nov. 11, two weeks later on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the Conring Council. Knights of Columbus, Monsignor Rawlinson received the congratulations of the city for his papal honors received in the fiftieth year of his priesthood.

Surviving the deceased pastor are three brothers, Wilfred of Billingham, Washington, and Francis and Charles of Rochester, and a sister Miss Margaret Rawlinson of Corning.

After the casket was brought from the rectory to St. Patrick's Church on Monday, priests of the diocese chanted the Office of the Dead in the church on Monday evening and members of the parishes Holy Name Society and Conring Council 4th Degree Knights of Columbus maintained a guard of honor through the night.

Bishop Kearney Addresses Group at Consecration Rite

New York — Greetings of the Bishops attending the Consecration of the Most Rev. Joseph Francis Flannelly as Titular of Metella and Auxiliary of New York were extended by His Excellency, the Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Rochester.

Bishop Kearney spoke at a luncheon in Commodore Hotel following the Consecration ceremonies in St. Patrick's Cathedral. Featured address was by His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York.

THIRTYTHREE prelates of the United States and Canada participated in the ceremony celebrating Bishop Flannelly in the Cathedral which he has served as administrator for nearly a decade.

Cardinal Spellman was consecrator and Bishops Joseph P. Donohue and Stephen J. Donohue, Auxiliaries of New York, were the co-consecrators.

THE 64-YEAR-OLD native of this city who is now the fourth Auxiliary of New York, was the 11th prelate consecrated in St. Patrick's Cathedral during the administration of Cardinal Spellman.

Sermon was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Philip J. Furlong who stressed the importance of the office of a Bishop during these troubled times.
