Father Basil Turula Retires As St. Josaphat's Pastor

Retirement of the Rev. Basil Turula, for 25 years pastor of St. Josaphat's Ukrainian Church, Hudson Avenue, Rochester, and the appointment of the Rev. Stephen Holowid as administrator, was announced this week.

Father Holowid joins with the Rev. Jaroslav Gabro, assistant rector, in carrying on the duties of the parish, which is part of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Diocese comprising 300,000 persons in 146 parishes throughout the nation.

Father Turula, widely known in Western New York for his long service to the Ukrainian people, retired from active duty Dec. 31, 1948, at the age of 67. Now visiting relatives in Indiana, he intends to continue to reside in Rochester.

BORN IN GALICIA, Ukraine, he came to America with his family in the early 1900s and was ordained in 1910 by the Metropolitan Szeptycky in Philadelphia, Pa. Prior to his appointment to St. Josaphat's, he served successively at parishes in Berwick, Pa., Woonsocket, R. I., and Allentown, Pa.

During his quarter-century pastorate here, Father Turula and his parishioners remodeled the church and freed it of debt, started the school and also paid off the debt, and obtained a big building across the street from the church for use as a clubhouse.

Approximately 400 families comprise the parish, which has 135 children in the school, staffed by five Sisters Servants of Mary Immaculate. A school bus transports the children daily. Prominent in parish life are the Holy Name Society, various Sodalties, several benevolent societies and the church choir.

FATHER HOLOWID, who is in his 50s, was born in the Ukraine and served in his priestly duties in various parts of Europe until coming to America recently. He comes to Rochester after brief duties at St. Michael's Ukrainian Catholic Church, Frackville, Pa.

America impresses him as "another world." Father Holowid admitted. He told of years of suffering of the European people and how persons within or near the Iron Curtain are ever fearful of word and act.

Food from America has saved the lives of thousands of war-starved Europeans, he said. Among his experiences were the survival of many bombings during the war years, and months of near-starvation when, he said, "even the best landowners had to eat grass and dandelions."

Announcement of his appointment here was made through the Most Rev. Constantine Bohachevsky of Philadelphia, bishop of the diocese.
