Third Order Of St. Francis

Ceremony of reception will take place at the next meeting of the Third Order of St. Franciss at 3:30 p.m., Sunday afternoon, Apr. 27 in St. Patrick's Church, Plymouth Avenue No.

Tertimeties are reminded of Also added this year have been: the efficacy of practising the "The End of Sante Fe Trail," Way of the Cross which has rich blessings attached. Says the Rev. Mark Regener, 0.F.M., writing in the "Franciacan Borum": "The walking prayer of the Way of the Cross is very simpie, with the simplest conditions for gaining the plenary indulgence granted for each performance. One must be (1) in the state of grace, (2) meditate on our Lord's suffering and death, (3) move from similar to station, except in the case of a large congregation, and (4) perform the devotion without a notable Interruption.

"By receiving Holy Communion the day on which we make the Stations another plenary indulgence can be gained; still another if the Stations are said ten times within a month. There are no further conditions."

National Honors Awarded Papers Of Mercy High

Two top-flight honors in the annual Columbia University Scholastic Press Association competition were captured by Our Lady of Mercy High School publications "The Marcedes," and "The Quill," the school has been informed.

The medalist award was presented to "The Mercedes" as an outstanding magazine of the pri vate secondary schools' class. The Quill" took first place in the private secondary schools printed newspapers' class. Nazareth Academy's "The Gabriel" shared the first place award in the newspaper class. and "The Maroon and White" of Aguinas Institute came in second in the same classification, Some 3,500 students from 25 states attended the three-day program of conferences, clinical and lectures which opened last Thursday in New York City at Columbia. More than 1,000 publications from schools in 46 states, Canada, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Hawaii. Alaska, Egypt and Okinawa competed in the contests.
