Firmly lodged among the kings of the night-time entertainment world, Charlie Spivak and his Orchestra will be brought to Rochester for the annual Police Ball to be staged at the New York State Armory on Saturday night, April 23.

Spivak, known as musical circles as "The Man Who Plays the Sweetest Trumpet in the World," has developed a band which makes music so solidly established for its individuality that it can be identified readily whenever and wherever it is heard.

COMING TO Rochester with Spivak will be his featured entertainers. They include Irene Daye, lovely young blond song stylist, Bobby Ricker, a sensational young drummer; Rusty Nichols, dubbed "The Gentleman from Virginia" and Tomm Lynn, a singer.

The year's Police Ball will see more elaborate decorating than ever before, according to Deputy Police Chief William H. McLaughlin, who heads the general committee. In addition to the Spivak Orchestra, Rochester will be represented by Sgt. Novelli's highly popular orchestra.

CHARLIE SPIVAK

Tickets for the Police Ball may be obtained at Police Headquarters, 137 Exchange St., or from policemen who are canvassing every section of the city with tickets. All proceeds from the ball go into the Police Benevolent Fund from which benefits are paid to relatives of deceased policemen.
