Auburn — Infants and children up to seven years of age will be blessed at a special service Tuesday afternoon, April 5, in St. Mary's Church during the second week of the Mission being conducted by the Rev. John Buchanan, S.J., and the Rev. Walter Kelly, S.J.
The service will consist of the blessing of children and mothers, together with a brief talk on motherhood, followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The mothers will hold the children for the blessing at the time of Benediction.

EXPLAINING THE HIGH indulgences which the Church grants for this ceremony, Father Kelly stressed that those who bring children to the church for this blessing, regardless of their relationship to the children, receive a plenary indulgence. The mission for the men of St. Mary's parish began on Sunday evening following the close of the mission for the women which was largely attended each evening last week. Masses each morning during the men's mission are at 5:30, 7:00, 8:00, 8:30 and 12:10 o'clock. The first two Masses each morning are the mission Masses, at which time brief instructions will be given by the missionaries.

ELMIRA CATHOLIC HIGHLIGHTS

By KATHERINE CARSTATER
"What are good practices for a student during Lent?" Most of us quickly assert that daily Mass and Communion, if possible, are the best ways to keep up the holy season. Along the category should be included the rest of the daily six visits to the Blessed Sacrament, Rosaries, Stations of the Cross, and Mental Prayer.

On these points all of us readily agree. But what about the other activities or ceasing of activities that Lent brings to mind? Maureen Maloney advises restraining tongues during those study periods in a very sharp penance indeed for many of us — but not impossible! And what about those times between classes when most of us talk along at a furious rate?

Another popular theme consists in doing the positive rather than the negative. An ardent supporter of this cause is Norman Hoesey. "Instead of giving up things I think we should do the hard things that don't appeal to us," says Norman. In reply to an example of this "if someone has been irritable to you make it a special point to be nice to that person."

State Takes Over Private Societies
Bucharest — (CIP) — The Official Gazette, a Rumanian Government publication, reports that 17 professional societies and 210 cultural associations have been taken over by the Rumanian Government.

The organizations listed by the publication include Orthodox, Latin Rite Catholic, Greek Rite Catholic, Lutheran, and Jewish groups, as well as women's musical, movie, scientific, and art societies, the Association for European Studies, and the Society of Friends of France.
