Negro Convert In Franciscan Lay Brothers

Phoenix, Ariz. — (NC) — Converted to the Catholic Faith three years ago, Freddie Williams, 19, was invested here with the garb of a Franciscan Brother. He is said to be the first Negro in the history of Arizona to become a Franciscan lay Brother.

The investiture took place in St. Monica's Church. Young Williams, a veteran of World War II and the only member of his family who is a Catholic, took as his name in religion Brother Crispin, after the Franciscan Saint who was a Brother and distinguished himself by love of his neighbors and care of the sick.

It was announced that the Commission is making plans for the production of 30 movies over a two-year period. This schedule includes five films in a series on democracy, and a series of seven productions dealing with mental health.

Italian Rank-and-File Citizens Support North Atlantic Pact

 rally are quick to point out the grave decision involved for the individual worker who plans to take a stand against the closely knit communist faction in the CGIL, which has not hesitated to use both moral and physical intimidation. Several cases of physical force, including death, have been reported in recent months.

According to estimates of some government officials, there are approximately 4,000 Moscow-trained organizers working in the various industrial centers of Italy. People familiar with the inner struggle in the labor movement have deepest respect for the courage and integrity of individuals who declare themselves opposed to the ruling communist faction.

THIS RESORT to violence, added to the usual strike, riot and non-cooperation activities of the Reds, has built up a noticeable body of opinion disapproving of the government's soft attitude toward the communists. It's time to take the stick to them, this view holds to make them stop their trouble and non-sense and get to work.

Franciscans To Delay Claim For Return Of Upper Room

Jerusalem — (RNS) — The Franciscan Order, custodians of the Holy Land for over six centuries, will not press its claim for return of the Coenaculum — the Upper Room of the Last Supper — to Roman Catholic control until Palestine's problems have been finally settled.

This announcement was made here by the Rev. Rerence Kuehn, prior of the Terra Sancta College in Jerusalem, and Vicar General of Southern Israel. A Moslem shrine ever since it was seized from the Franciscans in 1347, the Coenaculum is now in Jewish hands.

FATHER KUEHN said the Franciscans will not request permission from Jewish authorities to celebrate Mass in the Upper Room on Holy Thursday.

"The Franciscans," he declared, "have certainly not given up their claims to the Coenaculum. They have requested from Jewish authorities permission to say Low Mass in their own adjacent chapel on Holy Thursday, after which they will pay their traditional visit to the Upper Room to reaffirm that their claim to possession has not been given up."

The latter group is confident of what they call the "good sense" and practical-mindedness of the average Italian whose political activity is always influenced by what he thinks best for the practical business of living and caring for a wife and family. This good sense, they feel, makes him know a good thing when he sees it, realize where Italy's help is coming from, and, more important, where it is not coming from.
