A lone nun is among the spectators who look on mournfully at the smouldering ruins of St. Anthony's Hospital, Effingham, Ill., following the devastating fire which destroyed the 60 yearold institution taking a toll of 72 lives, including the hospital chapiain and two nuns, members of the Hospital Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis which operate the hospital. The tragedy was one of the nation's biggest disasters of the year. INP. (NC Photos.)
