Newmanites Told Duty To Spread Catholic Views

By HARRY KEHR
 Ithaca — Four hundred and fifty delegates from 32 of the 40 member clubs of the Central New York State Province of Newman Clubs attended a three day convention at Cornell University last weekend.
 Speaking before 250 delegates at a Communion Breakfast, Sunday morning, the Rev. Maynard Connell, Professor of English and Speech at St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester, paraphrased a statement of Our Lord's to declare, "The Lord said, Keep My word and you will be my friend."
 At the breakfast the delegates also heard from the Rev. Mark Thal, editor of The China Monthly and for 18 years a missionary priest in China, who spoke on "The Truth About Communism in China," and during the afternoon from the Interracial Panel Discussion Group on the subject of White-Negro relations.
 The convention opened officially on Friday evening with registration of delegates and an informal social.
 ON SATURDAY several panels, conducted by students from Buffalo State Teacher's College, the University of Rochester, Sampson-Ketka College, and Ithaca College, discussed specific phases of the convention's general theme, "The Social Responsibility of the Catholic Student."
 Two business meetings were held to conduct elections for Province officers, to formulate resolutions from the findings of the various committees and panel discussion groups and to decide on the location of next year's convention.
 Saturday evening the delegates ate in the Ivy Room of the Willard Straight Hall on the Cornell campus and later in the evening a dance was held.
 DR. CONNELL, noted Catholic lecturer and educator, said, "There is something in the air today which is making people feel the need for spirituality. We don't need a new religion, a new faith; we need to do what Mr. Chesterton in the later days of his life so beautifully, and yet so sternly, said, 'We need to make a real attempt to introduce Christianity into our lives.'"
 "There is nothing in the world today so important, so real, as friendship, God said, 'The poor you will always have with you,' and hence there will always be those who need food and care and housing."
 Father Connell added, "No man ever lived who could say, 'I cannot fill one of these needs for even one soul,'" and pointed out that those who will seek to fill them will receive a great reward-salvation.
