to patron who have been carefully selective in their planning. They come to the Mark Twain because they respect the quality of food served — they take complete confidence in the immaculate cleanliness of the kitchen — and most important of all they enjoy every bit of each meal knowing it has been prepared by chefs who are truly expert chefs, some of whom have been with the Mark Twain Hotel year after year since the hotel was opened 18 years ago.

Elmira Catholic Highlights

By CATHERINE CARSTATER

The sun is about to set upon the last week of school at Elmira Catholic High School. It has been a week which is truly typical of high school days, the sorrows of exams and study mixed in with the joys of class picnics. After such strenuous Regents Week Days, it seemed only natural that class parties should be next on the agenda.

The joys and pleasures of summer vacation were well initiated by all the students and Stuart Park seemed to be the most popular spot for the festivities. No one could complain of the hot weather.

To some the occasion meant only the ending of studying but to others it signified the close of a happy, eventful year which was filled with activities that were rich and satisfying.

The month of June is famous for other things besides exams and picnics. The seniors especially have demonstrated a great fondness in assisting at weddings.

Another thing that is famous is the graduation ceremony. The grand finale will take place this Sunday morning in connection with the 11 o'clock Mass. Bishop Kearney will present diplomas to the graduates.

Such an occasion is the cause for much flurry and excitement and cameras are busy clicking up the appearance of the busy ones this week. Yes, all will soon be over. But each happy event will have left a profound impression upon our lonely hearts. The beauty of it all, our hearts, our minds, many times not perhaps to faint us who are so soon to leave, but rather to place this final seal upon our affections. And so we say fare well to Catholic High.

Flag Donated To CWV Unit

Auburn — The Catholic War Veterans Auxiliary was presented with a handsome American flag Thursday night, June 16, at ceremonies held at the C.W.V. Hall in Water Street.

Mrs. Marcella C. Watson, president of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, accompanied by a delegation of members presented the flag to Mrs. John N. Perkins, president of the C.W.V. Auxiliary. The flag was blessed by Rev. Clarence Gardner, chaplain of the Catholic War Veterans Auxiliary.

Following the ceremonies, the annual covered dish supper, sponsored by the auxiliary for its members and members of the post, was enjoyed. Short talks were given by Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Barbara Campbell, patriotic instructor of the V.F.W., who had charge of the flag presentation program.

Another thing that is famous is the graduation ceremony. The grand finale will take place this Sunday morning in connection with the 11 o'clock Mass. Bishop Kearney will present diplomas to the graduates.
