fre

the

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

Management Can Help -Unions Eliminate Reds

"It can no longer be denied that the Soviet Union is make ing use of large numbers of prisoners se forced labor in conditions denying to them the back human rights; that these human belegs, once deprived of their liberty, are maintained in conditions of wretchedness and undernourishment; that, under the closk of arrests for crimes and other the Soviet Government has acquired for itself a vast body of cheap labor utterly without rights; that, in short, the Soviet Union has instituted a alave aystem recruited from anions its own citizens which

In scope has no parallel in his-

We simply remind our work ers that products from such

IN VIEW of all this the re-

We believe that management, imatend of holping these leaders, frequently used the situation to belittle the labor movement. This has injured the turnmen cause.

offenses against the regime,

By Richard M. McKeon, S. J. Director, La Moyne College School of Industrial Relations

On July 18, 1928 the "Dally must excelully prepare the tly exploited for their cheap Werker made the following participation of the commun-*t*t*m*#ti *Commun am to a revertitionary ingo of the tradeunten or in the Jabor novement and ine only repreof pavolution-ary Markismi Leninismi as such if it sp-soed (0 all other tendene ion within the Pr. McKean labor move constant policy of munist International, these years to become aware of ent self-complacency of all the installous purpose of the Americans should be shaken. CIO seems determined to clean house in those unions where their strongth has been too STALIN ONCE Said! "The trade unions are the basic drivewall the basic tradenission bult through the help of which the Party is bound to the working class.

In Czechoslovakia the unions were dominated and we know how easily this pullon fell. The same instructions are being fol-Name instructions are being for regime, what about those who lowed in America which were have incurred the displeasure of Seeyed in 1921:

"In those capitalistic countrias where a later majority. of the preletariat has not yet reached revolutionary conscicompany, the community agitaters much be constantly on the edicut for new Forms of propaganda. The factions

THE TOP OF

MY MIND

I on L. The nlar success of

Thomas Men-ton's "Seven

Storey Mountain" is being tepped by

books are Grella Palmer being hought by avid mon-Cathunderstatement of the Catholic claims. These writers atress the need for grace and supernatural help for fallen man. It bold de-sance of the clickes of our time.

friends a wind they are winding triends by the hundreds of Both books have, to a high degree, what he known in the irade as Treader (denilifica 1900, and that can be said et very few books in which a formal expedition of the Falth is made. Where may be in this fact a clue for Calholics who wonder how we can falk about the Church persualvely to madern men and worsen Who

For "reader identification" yaven at philosophy ared succe at Berelation hey never shilly shally to win

Monattor Tul-

olic readers.

thousands labor, He said: nista in conferences and meetganisations."

WHO IS responsible for this idlerance of economic evil? Not the Church for she has been uttering clear warnings for many years. But, sad to say, her dilidren who occupy high places in the world of industry have heen slow to hear constructive principles as well is warnings of danger.

tinion members by not attendment? These words reflect the ing their meetings faithfully Com have allowed the communists to take over and direct policy far And yet it has taken many of heyond their numerical accounts. ur labor unions and lasders all it is not too late, but the pres-

> For communism pleases the destruction of the natural Godgiven right to possess private slavery will be placed on the world market to compete with property, All land, all factories, all types of industry are to h those of a free system. owned and controlled by the aponalbititles of our labor lead-

This means that labor becomes ers are most grave. It has not if the state owns the means of been an easy task to keep their slave labor. For it follows that. production and controls the dis-Where infiltration has occurred iribution of all wealth, it must they have suffered greatly especi dominate the people and this ally in character assassination. means slavery, if this is true for the ordinary citizens of such a

IN 1948 Christopher Mayhow, British Under-Secretary of State: Businessmen should recognize for Foreign Affairs, citing stails that the vanguard of our battle ilds afforded by prisoners and with communist is in the ranks officials who escaped from Rus of labor, and credit for much of slan concentration camps, eatly the success in the fight should mated that from 5,000,000 to 15, go to members of organized 1000,000 people were being cruel labor.

- By Gretta Palmer -

Manger for the Fatch among faction with living, his longing who walks before him holding mon Catholic Americans seems to have his problems understood a famp to help him see.)

Editorials

New Vineyards Of Souls For Christ Loyal Citizens Respect Authority Men Who Forget God, Forget Country By Mear. William M. Hart

Two New Parishes

The past week witnessed the appointment of Pastors to two parishes about to be canonically erected in the northern and eastern section of the episcopal city and surrounding territory in Irondequoit. Pather Francis Feeney has been named to St. James Parish on Brockley Ed., Father Bernard Newcomb to St. Cecilla's parish on Culver Rd. This brings the total of Rochester city parishes to forty-aix.

. It is the duty of the Bishop to erect new parishes when the number of Catholics in any district has grown so large as to make it difficult to give them proper care through existing parishes. The new unit will reduce the distance they have had to travel because it will bring them a church and achool closer to their dwelling places.

Bishop-Kearney and his priests and people rejoice at the growth of the Church which is responsible for the addition of these new units to the list of parishes.

New souls for Christ, new families on the diocesan roster, new facilities for the training of the little ones. new alters for the offering of Holv Mass, new pulnits for preaching the word of God: all of these will result from the establishment of these two new parishes.

Soon a devout people shall see the beginnings of the buildings that shall serve them as parishioners of at James' Church, of St. Cecilia's Church Soon shall be answered the petitions of faithful parents who have hesought the Bishop to give them needed facilities for themselves and their children in the practice of their religion.

Our Greetings

In this important event in the current history of the diocese, the Courier Journal extends its greetings to these latest additions to the list of our churches. Greetings to the new parish named after St. James, the patron saint of Bishop Kearney; greetings to the new parish remed after St. Cecilia, the great nation of Church music Croot. ings to the loval neonle who all express their love of the faith in the edifices they will relea to Cod's honor and glory. Greetings to the new Pastors, Father Feeney and Father Newcomb.

God's blessing he with them as they begin to build for God and His Church!

Bridging the Chasm for For God And Country

Duty and choice combine in hinding loval citizens to God and country. As children of God, we recognize the ties that join us to Him in love and gratitude as our Creator, our Father. Our love for Him makes us alad to recognize our duty, to choose devotion to Him as our most happy lot.

Duty and choice bind us to love our country. We are bound to respect lawful authority as coming from God: we revere and obey the constitution and the laws of free America, because they are to us the ordinance of God in our civic life and activities

We gladly give ourselves to this petriotic love for our country, to this devoted obedience to its laws, because tweedy. In a d America appeals to us as the land of the free, the home of the temerity to the brave. We see in it a united number of all who believe a rate mit that the two most arrest histarating experience known as in government as coming from God, as guaranteeing to America ing words to men and women to "falling in love" and love itself, men the freedom God their Creator has given them as Divorce statistics indicate that! sponsoring man's inalienable right to life, liberty, and the

Against God And Country

Duty and choice have gone by the board in those traitorous Americans who have given up God and have chosen to betray their country. God and His goodness. God and His gifts to mankind, God and His beneficent benedictions on His children of earth, have been rejected, by civic groups in a number of changed now. Mr V. S. Pritch The duty of faith in God has been laid aside. The choice of the good things of God for the children of men, has been given up for something more namen.

Men who forget that, soon forget their country. Wen who are disloyal to their God, soon become disloyal to their Behold today the disgraceful examples of duplicity. of applied efforts to embarrass and injure our governmental agencies and our government itself, of studied noteto betray America to its pagan enemies. A jury has already convicted Judith Coplon, another inry has voted ferable upstarts whom Lord eight to four for the conviction of Alger Hiss. More of the love of God in our public servants, would tend to keep them loyal and true to their country. Lovers of God can not be lovers of Communism!

America needs a spiritual reawakening! Our leaders must follow the way of the founding fathers, must profess their humble dependence on God. Our people must follow them in the practice of Christian principles. May faith prevail in our hearts to keep us loyal to God and country

Nothing To Eat

Hunger plays no favories. Every man is close to it. so close to it that just a slight closing off of supplies will bring him right up to it. Every man is so close to hunger, that the only thing that keeps it from him is God's goodness.

Famine follows floods, dearth of food follows drought. austerity must follow any failure of prosperity. But men do not worry about it. They take it for granted that God will take care of them. God knows the needs of man. God is enver to sumply those needs. God vives us food in season, food in ahundance, as part of that divine benevolence known as the Providence of God. Christ had compassion on the four thousand who had so loved His teaching that they had inavelled with Him three days with no thought of food. For them He multinlied the seven loaves and the few fishes so that they all were satisfied, and seven baskets of fragments remained.

Have we ever followed so closely after Christ and His teaching that we have forgotten to take food? Have we ever found our love for things spiritual blotting out our usual interest in things material?

Perhaps we can learn a leason from the four thousand, not just the lesson of Christ's compassion on them: but the lesson of a consuming desire to be near Christ, to hear His blessed words, to know His teaching, to seek His blessing on our souls.

Breakfast and dinner and supper were passed up by the four thousand for three days, in their unappeasable appetite for the food of Christ's word. While we enjoy by His bounty the good things of the table, let us not forget to seek of His compassion the more important nourishment of the Eucharistic Table.

WHAT'S RIGHT WITH THE WORLD?

A Question of freedom is Raised at Harvard

By Rev. James M. Gillis, C.S.P.

In the latest Harvard Alumni plained to Mr Ober "Harvard one, would like something more Builetts; there is recorded an ex thinks that repression is not specific. change of opinions on academic wise or workable under our sysfree com betwee m Prest dent Conant and Grenville Clark, sentor ties and for the integrity of our. member of the Institutions Harvard Corporation, speaking rogether of Haltamore a graduage of the Harvard Law demanding restraint sors or otherwise." School Harvard : upon leftists in the Inculty in lavor of freedorm a n'd

Frank B Ober

activities rather than those in subject of intellect of freedom professors is a pour; of long by President Lowell in 1924. standing.

Dr. Comnt proceeded to quote his predecessor. A. Lawrence Lowell, who wrote in his annual report of 1916-1917: "In spite of the risk of injury to the institution, the objections to restraint upon what professors may say as citizens seem to me far greatter than the harm done by leaving them free.

"A pedicy of restraint would tend seriously to discourage some of the best men from taking up the scholar's life, and if a university or college censors what its professors may saw, if it restrains them from uttering something that It does not approve, it thereby assignes responsibility for that which it permits them to

BY WAY OF further elucids tion of the attitude of Harvard in regard to off-campus freedom; the official stand at Harvard on professors and students are to for the faculty, Mr Clark ex academic freedom. But I, for be "independent"

. . Harvard is not alraid of freedom and believes adherence to this principle to be funciamental for our universi

"She believes that the members of the faculties, in their capacity as citizens, have the same rights to express them seives as other citizens, and that those rights should not be restricted by the university by try fing to keep a watch on profes

Those statements, President Conant's the late President The debate concerned espect Lowell's, and Mr. Clark's, are inally off-campus statements and teresting contributions on the the classroom in Conant's and they may be looked upon as position is briefly this "The atti fairly "liberal" But as I read dergraduate journal at Hartude of Flarvard loward the ext them there came to mind a vard to advocate that sort of tracurricular activities of its much stronger statement made > Accempting a challenge from Bertrand Russell who had accused Harvard of being less liberal than the English universities, Dr. Lowell retorted, "At Oxford a students' here (at Harvard) in the memerv of man, and you (Dr. Russell) lost your fellowship at opinions. No such thing hap comes of Harvard liberalism? pened at Harvard."

frommon axiom was that "there Does Harvard draw a line be-

For example: one element, if not the chief element to Bertrand Russell's offending, was his teaching on sex-morality. He taught, ill the way from England to America to China. that the ser experiences of adults are nobody's affairs but their own.

On a broader plane he held that the Ten Commandments were a code adapted to the pastorsi age, or at the latest the agricultural age of history, but that in the industrial age, and in what he called the "personal age," the Decadogue, or at least that part having to do with sex-morality, is outmod-

Would President Conant champion the right of an un-"liberalism": Would Harvard permit a professor to incutcate the Bertrand Russell view of sex-relationships?

In regard to the kind of question immediately under discussion between the Harvard officials and the protesting alum publication was suppressed on Inus are we to understand that account of certain opinions it a professor, either off campus had expressed; nothing of the for on campus may speak and kind I believe has occurred act in favor of a political plan to overthrow the American Republic? If so Dr. Conant would doing a favor to the public (embridge on account of your in saying so if not what be-

Are we to agree with Bertrand Russell that English universities I MAY ADD that in German are more liberal than Harvard? universities, upon which Har Or that the prewar German uni vard had from President Eliot's versities allowed a greater inday largely modeled itself the tellectual freedom than Harvard? shall be no limit to what the youd which freedom may not teacher may tell his students go? If so may ke know where except his own instinct for the that line is drawn Say, rather, truth." Perhaps we should be may we know why the line is content with this explanation of drawn at all if the minds of

WOMEN'S VIEWPOINT

Don't Judge the Eagle By the Lion's Standards

- By Marie Weidman

They probably don't even like smoke cleared somewhat it be- ett a British observer fears that our holders any more The came apparent even to our most his country may "drift" into the other day a visiting English girl, severe critics that our gadget American way of life." This properly rather n g in world "After view ing our best displays of Marie Weidman democracy our schools and universities after observing Amer leans hore a number of their most positive angles as provided our Eastern cities, her most definite feeling concerned our drains

While thes effusion may have out our master plumbers into a nice glow, it leads the rest of us who are not plumbers to conclude that despite the spasms through which western civilization has survived, we are still regarded by the British and by Europeans as a group of insuf-Cornwallis failed to subdue

In fact, the more provincial of our foreign friends refer to us as a mation of British expatriates, which is pushing the whole thing a bit far, old thing. Americans have always taken overseas criticism with a good deal of patience and even arruse ment. We usually have attended carefully as with dry precision they decry our men of eletters our culture, our outlook we may then pillory them per manently, for our own private delectation, either in a Broadway show or a comic strip ONE OF THE most articulate visitors to our shores in an earl Christians in Eastern Europe, er period was Charles Dickens especially Josef Cardinal who found us a melancholy lot. devoted to crossing each other up in business. He discovered our U.S Customs courteous and descummental manufactum and a courter of the courteous and descumental and description of the courteous and description of the courte out of the courteous and description of the courteous and descripti correbread like "kneaded pin cushion" American laumakers were shockingly casual in Mr Dickens' eyes, about everything.. that is except their tobacco chewing which he found highly is offersive at least three dozen Vol. 21-No. 28 times in his American Notes.

In later years as our counirv grew in wealth and power other Europeans felt they could only consider us as a parvenue nation whose Weendence, said one lialian, rivaled that of Ameient Rome. We were invelghed against as "burtarians laden with gold" whose only creed was the religion of progress. They said that we threatened the whole European Embric of society, that our schools were stroplying the individual and that our love of the automatic would barges the end of the present

This was all before the catalysm of war. When the battle ridden country had not only frightening prospect however, is survived rather well but also mitigated somewhat by reports had helped Europe to autylve, of certain of Mr. Pritchett's

Europe to regain her equilibrium country pails on their sensibilisorts of Machiavellian machin stions to boister our own economy Our wealth and power frightens them

THE TONE OF criticism has

Public Rosary Recited Near London Tavern

London -(NC)- Many conversions have resulted from the efforts of a group of young ex-servicemen who for nearly a year have been leading pub-He recitation of the Rosary Sunday afternoons here at Speaker's Corner, Hyde Park.

Effects of their prayers, it is reported, have been especially noticed among lapsed Catholics, Now, with the permission of Bishop Andrew Beck, Coadjutor of Brentwood, this group has started a second "pitch" outside the Green Man, a public house in Leytonstone, on the outskirts of London.

' Intentions for which the Bosary is offered at these spots are: a just and lasting sia; the relief of persecuted Mindszenty, and the conversion of England.

less comfortably of countrymen intellectuals whose protonged visits in United In our present efforts to aid States indicate hist how the From the warmth of our Pacific slopes (and no people alive can luxuriate more completely in washine than the British - even their intellectuals) come harassing little summaries of the stupidity of our institutions and our mores.

These foreign reports are Waugh's annoying remarks on our burlal rites falled to amuse us - otherwise we may have forgiven them, (onversely of course we are all Judged by hhe worst of our literary production like, for instance, Mr. Norman Mailer's outrage THE NAKED AND THE DEAD. No one could binme the London TIMES for their attitude toward this American produc-

It is entirely true that we have a kinship with our English speaking critics. We speak the same language, we love the same literature and the impact of thirty million other kinds of immigrants to our shores has falled to change this devotion.

What our cousins have to learn yet, though, is that we cannot be judged entirely by their standards. In America. peace; the conversion of Rus- isince we do everything more efficiently, we have a set of norms of our own which may be too chrome-covered for foreign taste but which we find most satisfactory.

Thursday, July 14, 1949

HOST REVEREND JAMES EDWARD MEARNEY D.D., President

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Sureap of Circulations and the Catholic Press Association. It subscribes to the full reports of National Catholie Welfare Conference News Service, Religious News Service.

Published every Thursday by the Catholic Comier and lournes inc. MAIN OFFICE 33 Scin St.—Raker 6210—Rochesters N. Y. AUBURN OFFICE 116 Genesee St.-Phone 346.W ELMIRA OFFICE :.... 323 Realty Bidg.—Phone 2-3688 or 1-3423

Entered as second class matter in the Post Office at Elechester N T As required under the Act of Congress of March 1 1879 Single copy 10c; 1 rest subscription in 0 5 $3.00___

Camada $3.50; Poreign Countries $4.50 Net Mart W M Hart V.C. P.A. Editor-in-Chief; Very Ret Megt Junn 8 Randall Managing Seller: Res Patrick & Firms, Editor; Bis Michaed T. Tormet Associate Cutter Twomas & O'Conner' hens Editor Marole, M. Common Advertising Mainger: Elmer G. Graperistatet, Circulation Manager;

Markin Q. Moll, Public Relations Director.

LOADING IT ON

loads on the feader it appeals that the will is a master who to file self-inferest, his illustification needs a servant, the intellect, radio. AT 18 NOT cheapening the THE MODERN world rarely fruing we have to offer to ad distinguishes between that ex may lament the degeneration in the marriage of today comes to pursuit of hauniness. public taste since the Age of an abrupt end at just about the Faith when men would listers to time when the last installment a schoolman who offered the en has been paid on the bridal re-And both books, it may be re-ticing statement, "God can be friggrator. The honeymoon is marked, are thoroughly uncom- proved from dealgn." But ours is a world in which emution has largely replaced thought and if we are going to help that world, we have to take it as it is. The Faith is not served by putting a man to sleep with precise statements tailored to another

But suppose we throw the sins with an enchantment, and chasm that separates our friends not last. But it is not intended from any knowledge of Catho to last. icism? We need not talk about It is rather like the scaffold the love of God, for God to our line put up while a home is modern listener is a vague and being built; when the solid somowhat embarrassing topic, structure is completed, the scal love is more than an emotion, men and women run up the you have already staggered him, seaffolding but never lay brick the will, he is pretty sure to ask filmsy timbers will not last a you what you mean. (And you had better know, makes no demands of piety of A common simplification says you will be better able to cope to minds brought up on the conwith the things that trouble copis of Tip-Pan Alley and the

A Those Seaking the Faith

is he reaching famine propor and solved by someone speaking. The mere suggestion that love with authority. It says to the is anything more than a happy book buyer, "After reading this accident will be startling news over the bloom is off, "love" has ceased . . . and when does the news train depart for Reno* Now, a large number of these marial catastrophes would not occur if husband and wife shared the Catholic view of love, instead of regarding it as a kind of mutual hypnosis. It is quite true that love be-"love" across the limit this enchantment does

If you tell a non-Catholic that lolding can come down Modern If you go on to explain that it upon brick inside of it then is a faculty of the intellect and they are shocked to find the lifetime. Love as represented in the silck paper magazines today is never related to the intellect and rarely to the will people "fall in love" with characters who are described down to the last alluring detail of dress and eyelash length. They are "glamorous" they have "charm" . . they are "characters" but they have no character

The reader is never told that before falling in love it is well to use reason or to ask, "Is she honest, unselfish, capable of sacrifice?" He would inquire more carefully about the attributes of a man who sake for a loan of $100 than about those of the woman he promises to cherish until death. That is his tragedy.

THERE ARE a hundred pithy, luminaling statements of the hurch on human love. Any one of them throws light on the non-Catholic divorce rate. Any one of them will give the non-Caththe a new conception of a subect Which, you may lairly guess, ias troubled him.

And if he once sees that we are wiser in this field than the quacks of the souls who have advised him until now, he will come back and ask for other visiom from a Catholic source. ways have the right answers ecause we know what life is all about God. Then you may turn um giver to the iriest who will