Priest Appeals For Expellees In Native Germany

The plight of 2,500 priests expelled from countries behind the Iron Curtain into British and American zones of Germany was brought this week before members of the New York State Branches, Catholic Central Union and National Catholic Women's Union, by a priest who spent nine months in Siberia.

It is the Rev. Gerhard A. Flittkau, who is touring the United States in the interests of the St. Boniface Society and makes his American headquarters at Tappan, N. Y. He spoke at the convention of the two organizations in Rochester.

ORDAINED SHORTLY before the war, Father Flittkau was in a parish in East Prussia in the Diocese of Ermland. Of the original 400 priests in that diocese, 32 were killed by the Nazis and 122 by the Russians, he reported to the Verein.

Eighty per cent of the persons sent from East Prussia to Siberia are dead and of the 20 per cent returned to Germany only 2 per cent are alive, he said. Father Flittkau's plea is for the 12,000,000 persons of German descent who, because of the Potsdam agreement, have been expelled into the British and American zones and are struggling for bare existence.

The priests among these people, he said, are forced to say Mass in basements and to use wine cups for chalices and cigar boxes for tabernacles. People sometimes walk as far as 12 miles to assist at Mass. Father Flittkau is secretary general of the St. Boniface Society at 21a Paderborn, Neuhauserstr. 22, British Zone of Germany.

State Convention Held By Verein

"Workingmen should become more fully conscious of the definite conditions which must be fulfilled before a strike may be considered a just means of obtaining a particular objective."

The convention by resolution opposed in principal any federal aid may be provided for needy states in the nature of aid to education, held that where emergency relief legislation "there should be no discrimination between children attending state schools and those attending duly accredited private schools."
