St. Bonaventure To Dedicate New Seminary Sunday

St. Bonaventure, N. Y.—(Special)—The cornerstone of the new $2,000,000 Christ the King Seminary will be laid here in an elaborate ceremony Sunday, Oct. 16, Very Rev. John Lambert Rowan, OFM, announced today. Hundreds of members of the hierarchy and clergy in New York and Pennsylvania, will attend.

His Excellency Bishop John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., of Buffalo, will officiate at the laying of the cornerstone, which will follow a solemn High Mass, "coram episcopo," at 10 a.m. Most Rev. John Mark Gannon, Bishop of Erie, will preside at the throne during the Mass, whose celebrant will be Very Rev. Thomas Plassmann, OFM, Provisional of the Holy Name Province of the Order of Friars Minor.

Sermon will be delivered by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph B. McIntyre, chancellor of the Camden diocese and head of the clerical alumni of St. Bonaventure.

THE NEW building, which will accommodate 200 seminarians from 20 dioceses through out the United States, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, is expected to be completed next year. Of Florentine design modified to meet Franciscan requirements, it is situated on a commanding knoll in the southeast corner of the Bonaventure campus.

Sunday's ceremonies will be gird with a colorful procession of Franciscan friars and members of the hierarchy and secular clergy along a wooded path leading from Devereaux Hall on the campus proper to the construction site. During the march, the Rosary will be recited and the Litany of the Saints chanted. The Mass will be celebrated on the steps of the new seminary's chapel.

St. Bonaventure's last seminary was destroyed by fire in 1930. Since that time, temporary quarters have been maintained in a portion of Devereux Hall, a college dormitory. The new building was started on November 1 last year.

St. Agnes High Issues New Paper

With Betty Reger, Junior, as Editor-in-Chief, the first issue of "The Pallia," St. Agnes High School publication was distributed this week at the school, 876 East Main St., Rochester.

Title of the paper was suggested by Betty Vetter. Editor Betty Reger explains the significance of the name by saying the pallia worn by the Holy Father and Archbishops are made from wool blessed on the Feast of St. Agnes at the patronal church in Rome.

Art editors are Mary K. Reinart and Alice Kotsch. Mary Regina Stauffer is associate editor and Joanne Fischer, business manager.

The paper is a four-page, six and one-half by nine and three quarter inch spread — done by multigraph process.

A striking illustration of St. Agnes on page 4 is from the pen of A. P. Westbrook, a friend of the school.

Students from St. Agnes attended the newspaper clinics conducted by the Democrat and Chronicle and R.I.T. last Saturday.

Two Girls To Get Orchids At Dance

Two orchids will be awarded to girls attending the Saturday night dance in Blessed Sacrament Hall, Oct. 15, the dance committee announces.

Eddie Blanchard's orchestra, featuring Russ Cassata and Bill Spitz, will play for dancing from 9 to 12.

AMICO KICKS EXTRA POINTS

After every Aquinas touchdown these two specialists, Joe Salvaggio (left) and Fritz Amico, are rushed into play for the precious "point after touchdown." With Salvaggio setting the ball in place after the pass from Center Joe Schmitz, Amico has made two placements in four tries this season. Last year he booted 21 perfect goals and was the game-saver several times.

Texas Razzle-Dazzle Team Tackles Aquinas Sunday

A threatening flock of Texas Eagles swarm into the new Aquinas Memorial Stadium Sunday afternoon to tangle with Mickey Connolly's Aquinas gridders now riding the confident crest of two convincing victories.

POINTING FOR revenge on the 22-6 defeat of last year, St. Thomas High of Houston, Texas, is expected to display the trickiest hipper-dipper, crowd-pleasing football of the season for they boast a veteran team with two well trained backfields and Tommy Anderson, "the smartest quarterback in southern Texas."

Last Fall Aquinas fans watched the underdog Texans baffle the Maroon with T-formation deception that rivalled Houdini's cleverest style. Although denied touchdowns on three scoring drives, Anderson, then second stringer playing his first major game, made the Irish dizzy with fakes, delayed reverses and short passes. His appearance this weekend surrounded by a better balanced, more experienced and bigger team will put the Aquinas defense to its first major test of the season.

MOST OF the Houston regulars played the whole game against the Irish last year and have pointed all season for this game. Older, more experienced and heavier they may bring woe to the locals.

In their last visit, Barry Smith, center and line-backer deluxe, scored against Aquinas with a pass interception and 35 yard run; Mickey O'Connor big senior end, was immovable on defense; Harry Cagle, a bruising guard, fouled many Aquinas reverses, and Don Costa, fleet halfback, was tabbed by most observers as the hardest working man on the field.

LAST WEEKEND'S 6-0 victory over the heavier and older Golden Knights of Marianapolis Prep, Connecticut, convinced a crowd of 18,652 that the Irish have a team which may far outshine '48's heroes before the Thanksgiving Day finale.

Showing sustained land-drives that pierced the visitors lines repeatedly, Aquinas gained 221 yards on the ground to the Knights 134. Both teams tried a total of only 5 passes—one scored the sole Aquinas touchdown, a short toss by Jimmy Burns to Frank Noce.

Outstanding for Aquinas were Pete Blocca, Jimmy Ging and Jim Campagna in the running jobs, Joe Barbera for excellent blocking and tiny quarterback Jimmy Burns for adroit ball handling that was alickly deceptive and daring.

In the forward wall Joe Schmitz, Pete Klee, Frank Varrachione and ends Joe Blackwood and Frank Noce were outstanding.

Varrachione, chosen "Player of the Week" by his teammates for Sunday's offensive and defensive line play, will be co-captain with Jimmy Ging for the Houston game.

Plans will be completed for a luncheon in November. Hostesses will be Mesdames Peter Flanagan, Donald Woerner and Francis Healey.
