Church Ruined By Fire Rises Again In Trumansburg

Steady progress in restoring fire-gutted roof and walls and flooring of St James the Apostles Church in Trumansburg was reported this week by the Rev Leonard A Kelly pastor His parochial staff of workmen announced that the building will be closed in shortly to allow interior work during the winter

The old church, destroyed by fire in January is being reconstructed by local workmen under the contracting direction of Father Kelly and parishioners Funds for the project were raised in a parish subscription drive and contributed by parishes where Father Kelly was invited to make a pulpit appeal

THIS WEEK the basement refinishing was completed and complete new flooring installed The old steeple a 50 year land mark in the village, has been removed as work on the new roof continues.

Next major step, Father Kelly said, will be the knocking out of the church wall behind the altar to provide a 20-foot extension for the sanctuary and sacristy

Until the church is ready for rededication on Easter Sunday, 1950, Sunday Mass will continue to be celebrated in the Cayuga Theater in Trumansburg

Geneva Nun Winner In Grid Team Naming

Geneva Sister M. Immaculata of De Sales High school staff was one of the winners in the nickname contest for the Geneva High school football team recently In fact Sister submitted several suggestions for names for the red and black team. She tied with two other winners who submitted the same name, "Panthers."

There were three winning entries and all shared a prize of $25. To make it an even $10 apiece, the "Geneva Daily Times" added an extra $5 to make a $30 award.

The three winners, all of the feminine sex, included Ruth Mitchell, 13, of Johnson Rd. RD 2, Geneva, a junior high student; Sister Immaculata, and Jean L. Holz, 202 N. Main St., Geneva High graduate, now a junior at Syracuse University.

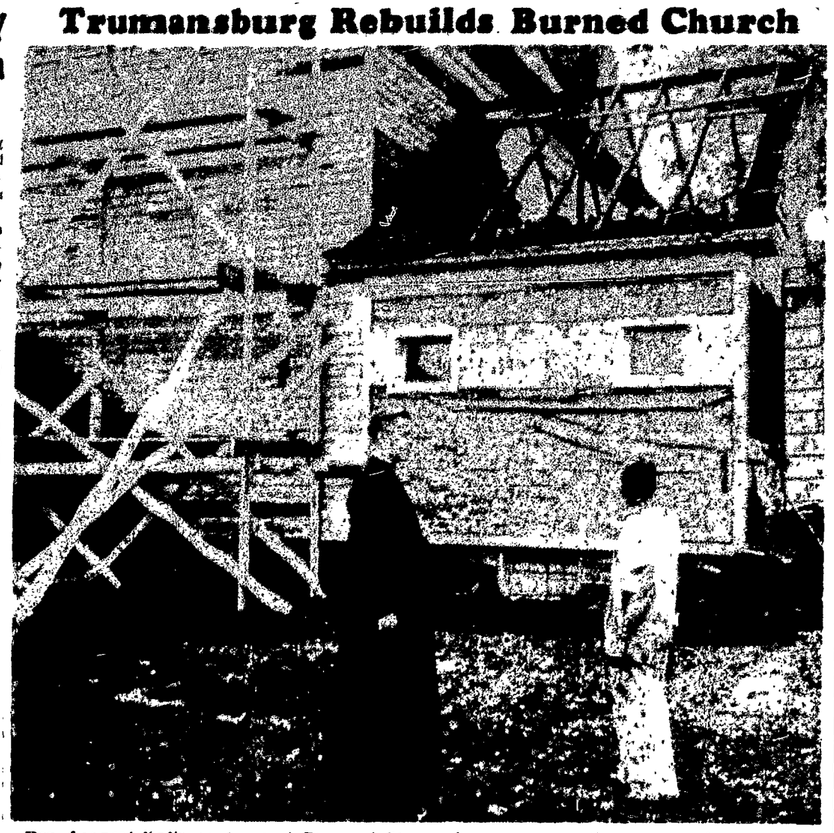
Trumansburg Rebuilds Burned Church



Rev. Leonard Kelly, pastor, and Raymond Stamp, foreman, survey the progress of reconstruction work on St. James the Apostle Church in Trumansburg. The old building, gutted by fire last January, is being rebuilt by local workers and craftsmen with Father Kelly and a parish committee sharing the contractor's role This view shows the church's fire damaged rear wall (left) which will be torn down and extended 20 feet to provide a new enlarged sanctuary.

Men's Mission Open In Hornell

Hornell A two weeks' Mission is being conducted in St Ann's Church by the Rev James V Lowery, C SC, and the Rev Raymond Conmy C SC of the Holy Cross Mission House in North Easton, Mass

The women's Mission held each morning and evening during the past week closed Sunday with impressive ceremonies Holding lighted candles aloft the hundreds of women renewed their baptismal vows and participated in the solemn prayers

Mission services for the men of the parish are being held this week Sin, death judgment, and the Mercy of God are among the subjects discussed in the evening sermons. The brief instruction after the two Mission Masses each morning deals with the Ten Commandments and practical suggestions for adhering to the Law of God
