Scientist Avers Prayer Essential To Soul-Saving

By MARY CAREY

"Nothing in life, not even life itself, is so important as the saving of a single soul, especially one's own," Dr. Benedict V. Favata of Strong Memorial Hospital staff told members of the Catholic Women's Club Monday evening.

Titling his discussion "A Scientist Talks About Prayer," the boyish-looking brain surgeon gave an analysis of the elements of prayer.

Prayer is a controversial subject among scientists, said Dr. Favata. They wonder what makes a scientist think of prayer and what its origin is.

"Darwin once thought his theory of evolution had blasted religion for all time," Doctor Favata declared. "Since his there have been five theories and remember they are all just theories."

DESCRIBING THE bible as a "most scientific book," the speaker pointed out the scientific soundness of the bible story of the origin of life. "The difficulty of the bible is that people swallow it whole without getting down to its real meaning."

He emphasized the fact that there is no reason why the scientific mind shouldn't accept the bible's version of the creation of the world. "The hitch in all evolution theories comes where the athletic scientist says everything started in the water, but doesn't say where the water came from."

What shape a man's body evolved from doesn't matter any way, the speaker said. "Every thing in the world is perfect, scientifically, chemically perfect, but human beings in the world are far from perfect because of the element of evil, which is the rejection of God."

It is the great endowment of God's, the human will, which enables man to reject God and accept His negation, evil, Dr. Favata asserted. "Nobody just falls into Hell," he stressed. "He goes to Hell slowly and purposely because he wants to be there. It's a proof of the mercy of God that

"Deo Gratias"

By RICHARD A. NAGLE

The atmosphere we breathe each day

The golden sun above

Our privilege to kneel and pray

Deo Gratias

The birds that fly and sing above

Their rapture fills the air

They sing their melody of love

Deo Gratias

We live in freedom to be sure

And speak what ever we will

We work and sleep in peace secure

Deo Gratias

To earn our only livelihood

Employed in our desire

To live and work just as we would

Deo Gratias

To worship God in all His Glory

To do His work on Earth

To gain His pardon when we're sorry

Deo Gratias

To live our lives and when we've given

And death's dark door awaits

To know our Souls are safe in Heaven

Deo Gratias

Housing Plan Fight Urged By CWV Leader

Review of their fight for low-cost rental housing for large family groups will be under taken by more than 20,000 members of the Catholic War Veterans of New York State following recent election approval of expansion of the State's public housing program.

That declaration was made Sunday night by Thomas J. Cuite of Brooklyn, state department CWV commander at ceremonies in Holy Rosary Hall marking mass installation of 11 floors of ten local CWV posts.

Better housing, Cuite pointed out, is in line with the Catholic belief that the family and its security are the foundation of American institutions.

The CWV, according to Cuite, also will continue to press its campaign against the relaxation of the divorce laws of New York or other states. "In my opinion," said Cuite, "divorce restrictions in this State are too loose as they stand."

Catholic War Veterans will oppose the giving of United States funds and military aid to Yugoslavia, Cuite asserted, until Marshal Tito fulfills three conditions. They are:

- (1) Release from imprisonment of Archbishop Stepinac and other clergymen of all faiths who have been arrested and jailed by the Yugoslav regime.
- (2) Cooperation with the United States government.
- (3) Promotion of world peace.

Milton V. Schaefer, St. Boniface troop scoutmaster, officiated and made the charter presentation to Howard B. Barry, scoutmaster, and Albert Morrison and Ralph Ver. Hovsen, assistant scoutmasters.

The Rev. John A. Moran, assistant pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church, was named chaplain of Troop 21.

Committeemen of the newly organized troop are: Leo A. Martin, Leo J. Moran, Leo J. Kern, John E. Lacey, Francis J. Repp, Frederick P. Meyer, James S. Warren, Jr., John G. Bauman, James T. Conroy, Raymond P. Weiss and George W. Birkswede.

Scout officials took part in the ceremony. They were: Milton B. Funnert, pioneer district commissioner; William J. Maxton, district chairman; George Fenris, district scout executive; Ralph Sawyer and Otto Haage, assistant district commissioners.

William J. Dowell, committee chairman, was in charge of the program which included a film on scouting.

Mrs. Perkins Heads CWV 624 Auxiliary

Auburn — A ceremony was conducted Nov. 15 in the rooms of the Auburn Catholic War Veterans Post 625 when the post auxiliary officers were installed.

Poland Controls Catholic Hospitals

London, Nov. 15 — In one swoop six Catholic hospitals in the city of Warsaw, Poland, for their Brest-Litovsk were taken over by the Polish communist regime, according to reports reaching here.

These six hospitals were part of a group of about 30 Polish hospitals which have long been controlled by religious communities but are now "nationalized," that is, taken over through payment of a number of hospitals run by the Polish Red Cross have also been seized by the government. Taking over of the hospitals followed a decree by the Polish cabinet.
