make this column primarily devotional, by the title we should like to keep in our own mind as well as in the reader's that when we speak "among women" we always have as our literary touchstone the ideal woman - the Blessed Virgin Mary -- "Blessed among women."

WITHIN THE LIFETIMES of many of us the status of women has changed so drastically that the ensuing bewilderment has led many well-intentioned women down surprising and frighted to stay in the sheltering cove ening byways of intellectual and social interest.

> As the Holy Father has so well expressed it, "never in the course of the history of humanity, have events required on the part of woman so much initiative and daring, so much sense of responsibility, so much fidelity, moral strength, spirit of sacrifice and endurance of all kinds of sufferingin a word, so much herolam,"

These characteristics we can apply in the large world of human affairs or in our own small personal lives. Being a Catholic voman today requires all of the qualities listed by Our Holy Father and, in many instances, more

This, then, is our purpose: To examine the place of the Catholic woman in her modern setting, to help her orientate herself in the plan of Catholic Action, to tell her of what others are doing in this great field, to study and discuss her place among women
