A Great Work Done - A Dream Realized Both Sides Must Unite for Common Good God's Instrument To Preserve a Nation By Migr. Williams M. Hart.

St. Margaret Mary Dedication

Long will the historical records of the Diocese of Rochester cherish the memory of the solemn dedication of the new St. Margaret Mary Church. The event marks the formal opening of a large and beautiful church building. It speaks of the healthy growth of religion under the spiritual direction of the Reverend Charles J. Bruton, founder and first pastor of the parish. For Bishop and Pastor and people, it tells of the fulfillment of plans made many months ago, the realization of hopes that long have dwelt in their hearts.

Sweetly and prayerfully the consecrating pasims and ritual orisons will resound throughout the stately edifice, as Bishop Kearney officiates in full episcopal regalfs, the priests choir making the responses to the Bishop.

Holy water is sprinkled over walls and entrances. incense wells up in an octor of sweetness. Holy Mother Church petitions Almighty God to bring special help to all who shall visit this church, to pray within and to assist at Holy Mass. Warm hearts feel a new glow of happiness in the faith that has meant so much to them, that has led them to raise to God this new fane under the patronage of the great Aposlle of the Sacred Heart, St. Margaret Mary.

And now the dedicatory sermon is preached by the Bishop. The work is done; the church, already completed in material beauty to be a lasting architectural prayer to the Creator, has now received the official and final dedication to complete its dignity as a spiritual entity. It is now a building set apart from all other buildings. It is now a House of God. It is now the dwelling-place for the glory of God. It is now the labornacle of the Most High God, to enshrine forever the abiding presence of Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament.

To l'ather Bruton and his Assistant Priests, to the Staters and latty of St. Margaret Mary Parish, to the Bishop under whose direction and patronage the new church has been erected, go the good wishes and congratulations of all the diocese

A great work has been done, a fond hope realized, permanent tribute of faith to God has been raised up. Great praise is due the contractors, the architect, the artisans, the building committee, who have conceived and carried out the plans that have been realized through their devoted skill and industry. May God give all connected with the dedicators services length of years in which to worship Him in the new St. Margaret Mary's Church.

That is the prayer of every patriotic American! End the coal strike! It is no credit to the employes that their unions have not been able to meet the employers in a conciliatory manner productive of industrial peace. Nor is it any credit to the employers that they have preferred to find it impossible to secure for themselves and their workers and the people of the country in general the advantages of effective collective bargaining. For the make of better things in the coal industry, the strike should be ended through a more sincere effort to deal collectively on the issues involved.

The President now has taken action with the appointment of a fact-finding board, May it bring labor peace, through getting the opposing sides to face publicly the reasons that have made ineffective all efforts to draw Immortal is the memory of the Great Emancipator! As long as men shall people this earth, the memory of Abraham Lincoln shall be in benediction! A man of the people, humble in origin, called to head the nation in its most trying years and to bring it to safety through a bitter Civil War, he stood before the world as a man raised up to be God's instrument to preserve us a nation.

New material now offers itself for the study of lovers of Lincoln. New books will be added to the myriad editions long since given to the world. To the four score and 7 years Lincoln spoke of in the Gettysburg Address have now been added a new four score and fifteen years. Lincoln grew to greatness in the earlier years; Lincoln has grown in stature in these later years. Lincoln will make a greater appeal as scholars reveal more and more of the spirit that made him great!

Our devotion to the memory of the greatest of our Presidents should be real. It should be no empty tribute to greatness in the abstract. It should be the vivid appreciation of his civic virtues united to a sincere effort to imitate them. Nearness to Lincoln should make us better Americans; nearmess to Lincoln should banish from every American heart all prejudice, all bias, all bigotry. Liberty and justice for all! Unity of purpose! Devotion to the right as God gives us to see the right! May the spirit of Abraham Lincoln continue to inspire the hearts of the American people!

Men From Every Town

It was no little group that listened to Christ's parable of the sower and his seed. It was a crowd, a very great crowd, a crowd made up of men from every town. They were gathering about Jesus, they were resorting to Him. Human curiosity prompted some to hear more of what this new preacher had to say: here was an eloquence men did not often experience, here was a message weighted with power and aglow with solemnity, here was one who spoke with authority. Grace moved them closer to Christ, faith welled up in their hearts, they believed

Men from every town, a very great crowd of them How Christ looked into the soul of each one! How He longed for the salvation of each one! How happy He was to give them the beginnings of His teaching! And what a message! Christ dealt with the whole content of faith, the complete deposit of revelation. Faith as the beginning of all true service of God was up for consideration. Faith sown in the heart of man, even as seed is sown in the field. Christ is the sower: Christ's word is the seed. All seed can fructify, can bear fruit; all seed also can fail to germainate, to grow up into mature vegetation. How aptly Christ shows men how the sown seed can produce divers effects in their hearts, in accordance with their own reaction to it.

"By the wayside"-the devil takes the faith from the hearts of those who are beginning to believe that their faith may fail and not save them. "On the rook" fall from faith in time of temptation. "Among thorns choked by the cares of the world. "On good ground."
