Winter Carnival Program At Nazareth College Set

The reason for those ski suits and fur mufflers currently being worn by members of Nazareth College's Junior Class is the Winter Carnival, scheduled Sunday, Feb. 19 on the East Avenue campus from 3 to 9 p.m. The Juniors have planned an afternoon program of sports and races, skiing, tobogganing and skating for the snow festival to which parents and friends are invited. All the classes will engage in a snowball hunt for prizes. A snow building contest is another part of the program, for which each class has prepared a snow figure to be judged for originality, beauty, size and other features. FOR INDOOR sports, movies of winter sports at Old Forge will be shown. A candidate for Snow Queen has been chosen by each class. To be crowned according to which class makes the highest contributions toward the School Library Building Fund. Proceeds of the carnival are also designated for this fund. Candidates for queen are Senior, Pat Flanagan; Junior, Pat Barry; Sophomore, Barbara Rogers; Freshman, Helen McCarthy. Supper will be served in the school gym, followed by "The State of Affairs versus the Class of '51," an entertainment. The crowning of the Snow Queen will climax the evening. Committee members include: Margaret Veltz, decorations; Joan Kelly, entertainment; Veronica Miller, refreshments; Yvonne Chigessa, waitresses; Marianne Hoffman and Carol Hatzler, sports; Pat Barry, cleanup.

Golden Jubilee Observed By 4th Degree K.O.C.
Christ-like practices in every day life must multiply to halt the menacing spread of Communism, two speakers declared in two events marking the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus golden jubilee and sponsored by Rochester Assembly, this week.
(Photo on Page 1)
The Rev. James M. Keller, M.M., founder of the Christoph Movement spoke Wednesday at Columbus Civic Center highlighting the jubilee program.
Henry L. Meininger, state K.O.C. membership chairman and Brooklyn public school staff consultant, spoke at the annual Lincoln Day dinner in Sheraton Hotel opening the observance.

AT BOTH events His Excellency Bishop Kearney was guest of honor and speaker. The Bishop, at the dinner, commended the members of the Fourth or patriotic degree, for their devotion and service to Church and country.
FATHER KELLER, author of the famed book, "You Can Change the World," which has been filmed, told more than 300 persons at an open meeting that "it is not what the evil are doing that will wreck the world but what we are not doing."
He urged parents to have their children "get into jobs that affect the destiny of all" such as education, government, labor, writing and social service. For those who cannot get "into the marketplace" he advocated "the power of prayer as the best means for good."
Predicting some 20,000 television sets in the nation within the next four years, the Maryknoll priest warned that the Communists are telling their people to get into television as a means of getting their ideas across because there is little control in this field. Communists, he insisted, are adding membership rapidly and "they are out to get the world."
Bishop Kearney recalled the parable of the talents and said "I will be judged on what opportunities I had and how I used my talents." He added that spiritual talents should be exercised in prayer and self-denial, intellectual talents in discussion, and social in explaining the faith. The individual's contribution, he said, may seem insignificant, "but God will make it vital."
Charles A. Tucker presided at the meeting. Speakers were presented by Cyril J. Statt, past master of the Fourth Degree's Fifth New York District. The Rev. Albert J. Shannon, moderator of Rochester Assembly, was introduced.
Meininger declared the Catholic Church is one of the most formidable barriers to the spread of what he described as "atheistic Red Fascism." He said this force menaces the entire world. To meet this challenge the speaker said men must revitalize Western civilization and make it "afame and aglow with the spirit of Christ." The task, he said, requires men of righteousness and justice who are able to take "virile and enlightened action" against the threatening forces.
The dinner was attended by more than 100 assembly members and their wives. Donald E. Woerner was toastmaster and Ralph F. Murphy, general chairman. The golden jubilee motif was carried out in decorations.
