Documentary On US Catholics Set For Anniversary Program

Twenty years of nation-wide Catholic radio broadcasting will be hailed on The Catholic Hour at 5 to 5:30 p.m. this Saturday, Mar. 11, on WHAM, when Actor-producer Eddie Dowling presents a historical documentary program dealing with the impact of the Catholic Church on the American scene since 1930.

Robert C. Healey, of the New York Blackfriars Guild wrote the script. Monsignor Fulton J. Screen will interrupt his current series of addresses on the Catholic Hour to deliver a special message.

THE PROGRAM, sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Men, is carried by 118 NBC stations and reaches an average weekly listening audience of 4 million.

Its aim for 20 years has been "To make better Catholics and consequently better Americans; to bring to non-Catholics better understanding of Catholic belief and worship; to pierce the darkness of all confused souls with rays of love and understanding." Countless conversions and returns to religious practice have been reported in letters as a result of the program.

Converted Movie Director Opens School For Actors

Kyoto, Japan—(NC)—A new school for the training of movie actors and actresses has been established here by Film Director Akira Kurosawa, who produced the masterpiece "Seven Samurai" of Japan. The school offers both first and advanced courses, each lasting a year. Enrollment totals 50 of whom seven are women.

MR. KUROSAWA, a former movie director, is officially recognized by the prefectural government of Kyoto in applying for permission to conduct the school. He stressed the fact that the courses would be conducted according to Catholic principles. This accounts for the fact that of the 50 students, 30 have signed up for catechism classes, which Mr. Kurosawa himself conducts at the school twice weekly. Some students study Latin and music.

MR. KUROSAWA, studied the Faith secretly for a year and was
