

Miss Donlon Urges Women To Avoid Europe's Errors

BY MARY CARBY

What happened in Europe can't happen here, if American Catholic women will look across the ocean and see that it happened because the people to whom it mattered most did not lift a finger to stop it.

This was the opinion expressed by Miss Mary Donlon, chairman of the New York State Workmen's Compensation Board, who spoke to leaders of Rochester Catholic women's groups Monday evening at the Catholic Women's Club on the subject "Europe Today — Could It Happen Here?"

Introducing the distinguished speaker was Mrs. Joseph Green, program chairman of the Catholic Women's Club and a former school chum, who described Miss Donlon as a "pittiless since grade school."

Drawing a graphic picture of the misery and strife of Europe as seen on a recent trip, Miss Donlon called upon Catholic women to live Pope Plus XII's dictum on women in social and political life "so it can't happen here."

"IN WAR AND time of crisis," asserted the former New York City attorney, "they always turn in desperation to the women. Why can't the women carry the burden all the time?"

She described her trip which was made to study the health and social insurance programs of other countries in the interest of the new program being introduced in New York State.

In Ireland, Miss Donlon said, she found the answer to the question "What happens to my sweepstakes money." The Irish are building new hospitals and trying to stamp out tuberculosis which takes a high toll because of the inadequate food.

SHE CONTRASTED the health and safety programs of Ireland with those of England, which has more money with which to work. "The basic fallacy of their (English) program is that it tries to insulate state into the care of the sick."

As an example of what difficulties beset a government-run medical plan, she cited an example of a Catholic nurse who might be faced with the problem of disobeying her conscience in obeying a doctor's orders to assist in an operation considered unethical by Catholic standards.

Incidence of tuberculosis is high in England also, she related, but the English don't pasteurize their milk because, as one doctor told her, "we don't like the taste of it."

Miss Donlon said she found the most successful health programs operating in Switzerland and Holland, where private insurance finances medical care.

Touching briefly on Communism in Europe, she said "The curious thing is that the people do not discuss Communism as a negation. The real struggle in Europe is not so much against Communism as it is for individual freedom and initiative."

'Hardest Vocation' Says DCCW Speaker of Marriage

Marriage was variously described as "the hardest vocation," and "a type of priesthood," by speakers at the fourth session of the Pre-Cana Conference series, being held Monday evenings at the Empire Room in the Powers Hotel, by the Rochester Council of Catholic Women. About 150 attended.

The first speaker, Mrs. H. Lou Gibson, mother of four, was the "voice of experience" on some of the practical, day-to-day aspects of the wedded vocation. The spiritual slant was given by the Rev. Richard Torrey, associate editor of the Courier-Journal.

He urged the young people "Be a raging challenge to the viciousness of the modern conception of marriage. You are the salt of the earth. If you fall down and become like your pagan neighbors, where will you be? You are our salvation."

Next session will feature Dr. William L. Madden, Rochester obstetrician, in "Love and Its Expression" and Rev. Francis Hester, "Love and Morality," Monday, March 27 at 8:15 in the Powers Hotel Empire Room.

DESCRIBING MARRIAGE as "the hardest vocation, but the most enjoyable," Mrs. Gibson took up the question of babies in her talk, titled "Love and Its Incarnation." "Never bargain with God," she warned "You are not the last word on life or death of God is."

She told the young couples that the cost of having babies and the financial hardship involved is overemphasized. "We've grown very scientific," she said "We think we must have an obstetrician or family physician. Remember, there is always the clinic."

Depicting the effect of modern life on the attitude toward marriage, Father Torrey said, "Modern advertising, movies and the like, place the emphasis on the physical in showing how to get a husband or wife. How many marriages fall when begun on this criteria. The marriage state has fallen among robbers."

THE SACRAMENT of Matrimony is a "type of priesthood," he asserted "You are committed to save each other's soul, and those of your children, and you are missionaries called to
