Scores Parents' Love of Pleasure In Knights' Talk

Canandaigua — Growth of materialistic thinking in America was traced to the growing assumption that man was created for happiness, pleasure and ease in a talk by Monroe County Children's Court Judge Thomas J. Meagher in Canandaigua at a C. Hall, Apr. 16.

Judge Meagher was the guest speaker at a Communication breakfast attended by more than 100 members and guests of Canandaigua Council, Knights of Columbus.

The juvenile court judge blamed this wide belief of parents in pleasure as the ultimate purpose of life for the growth of child delinquency. Most youngsters coming to the attention of his court display an entirely subjective attitude toward their problems and conditions, Meagher said.

The jurist pointed out in his development of the topic "The Family and Materialism" that the constant pursuit of pleasure had its consequences in dissatisfaction in material and emotional requirements, and frequent turning to petty crime and other outlets for frustration.

WHEN PARENTS come to accept trials, tribulations and hardships of their lives as part of God's Divine plan for their existence, so will this spirit of acceptance of God's will be reflected in the character and behavior of their children. Judge Meagher declared.

Just as God is the author of all mankind, and just as every man is dependent upon God for each moment of his existence just so is man's purpose of life the loving and honoring of God his Creator," he said.

State Warden Rocco Natabe and District Deputy John J. Kinney, both of Rochester were guests at the breakfast with the Rev. John B. Kientz, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, Grand Knight Francis J. Welch introduced Edward J. Greenen who served as toast master.
