CORONATION AT HOSPITAL

200 Participate In May Queen Rite At Hospital

With 200 Sisters of St. Joseph, nurses and guests participating, the Annual May Day observance at St. Joseph's Hospital, Elmira was held Monday evening.
A procession was held through the hospital corridors reciting the Rosary and singing hymns to Our Blessed Mother.
The principal address was given by the Rev. Benedict Ehmman, pastor of St. Mary's of the Lake Church, Watkins Glen.
"YOU, IN YOUR vocation as nurses," Father Ehmman said, "are spending yourselves in serving the sick. Sickness and death are a consequence of sin in serving the sick as children of Mary, you are helping in a very real way to crush the serpent's head."
"Encourage the sick to bear their suffering as a redemptive thing. Implore Our Lady, Health of the Sick, to assist you in ministering to Christ's afflicted ones."
Following the procession through the hospital, Jean Marie Gleason, Sodality Prefect was crowned May Queen in a ceremony held in the living room of the nurses' residence.
MISS ELEANOR ANDERSON, Senior Class president, crowned the May Queen and congratulated Miss Gleason on the honor given her by her classmates.
The entire group then marched to the Little Flower Chapel where Our Blessed Mother was crowned by Miss Gleason.
Attendants to Miss Gleason were: Patricia Hartnett and Joan Lacey, St. Joseph's Freshmen; Virginia Savage and Elizabeth Toole, Nazareth College Sophomores; Nancy Btezad and Joanne Tuohy, Nazareth College Juniors; Theresa Crossedeph McDonnell of Hammonds and Mary Therese O'Brien, St. Port

Elmira Catholic Highlights

By REGINA BLISH
The Yearbook staff of Elmira Catholic High School was busy last week preparing and sending out thank-you notes to our many patrons who generously came to our recue.
Already the students are talking and making plans about this Thursday which will be a free day, since it is Ascension Thursday.
Sport Likes
The Junior boys will oppose the Senior boys at Brand's Park on Ascension Thursday at 10 a.m. in a game of baseball.
On The Legal Side
Girls of the Baral Retreat League will hold a benefit card party on Tuesday, May 23, at 8 p.m. to raise money for their retreat in Rochester, when school closes. The party will be held at Columbus Center and the public is invited to enjoy and evening of fun for only $50. On the cuff this affair is open and legal.
Senior Reviews
John P. McCarthy, the son of Mrs. John McCarthy 709 Penna. Avenue is one of this week's seniors. Mac or J.P. is a tall blond haired boy with distinctive specs that go wherever Mac goes. Here at school J.P. enjoys his Chemistry and also study periods. He detests homework of any sort and also teachers' pets.
At home you will probably find Mac playing Canasta or listening to Spike Jones recordings of the King Cole Trio. He also collects stamps and is an ardent reader. He's one lad however who doesn't enjoy those comics.
Girls who talk too much get on Mac's nerves but nevertheless we suspect that he has a genuine interest in the fair sex. J.P. plans to get a job upon completion of High School and will go to night school at Elmira College.
One of our senior girls for this week is Patricia Ann Riley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Riley, 517 West Third Street. Pat is a medium sized brunette with blue eyes and a real Irish look. She is noted for her infallibility in math and also for her dislike of languages. When there's something to be done at school Pat's always there lending a helping hand. She can tickle the ivories at home and at school. At home it's the piano keys and at school it's the typewriter keys.
Some of Pat's favorite pastimes are playing baseball or watching the ball games at Duran Field. Besides that she's a good swimmer and enjoys vacations at the lake. Pat plans to enter the business world upon graduation and will first get her training at business school.

Kathryn Ryan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Ryan, 92 Demarest Parkway is our other Senior girl for this week. Kitty as she is known to most of us is a tall, slender, light haired lass with pretty, laughing hazel eyes. She's as Irish as they come and proud of it too. She gets a kick out of any situation including school and for that reason we suspect that her favorite school subject is an exciting study period. She confesses that what delights her most is to come to school and be told that there'll be no school the next day. That doesn't happen often enough does it Kitty?
At home you can usually find her talking on the phone or helping Papa out by mowing the lawn or shining the car which she says she would like to drive more often between mowing lawns and oiling the car. She is usually too busy to tell you her plans for the future - she says they're quite indefinite but we think she would make an excellent air hostess.
The other Senior boy for this week is Donald George Keating, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Keating, 315 Mid Avenue. Donnie is often called "George" at school though he is a tall, heavy set boy with blue eyes and blond hair. He's noted for his sincerity and easy going manner. At school George likes his Latin but dislikes English of any sort.
On the outside George confesses his fondness for driving the family car and admires all the new cars he can't stand to see "two love drivers" out motoring. "They spoil the scenery," he says. At home you will find George listening to the Pioneers losing or eating Pizza Pie Off and on he works at the Southside A & P.
George plans to go to work upon graduation and to continue his education at night school. We, who know this serious and likable boy, know that he can do nothing but succeed.
