Lay Retreats Open Now To Individuals

Close to 50 men from six parishes of Rochester diocese made their first closed retreat in the Notre Dame Retreat House, 246 Alexander St. over the weekend and enthusiastically endorsed the new arrangements made for such devotions.

The Very Rev. Augustine J. Aylward, C.S.S.R. and the Rev. Thomas J. Sanderson, C.S.S.R. conducted the services for men from St. Andrew's, Rochester; the three Cornish parishes and from Addison, Bath, Bradford and Campbell.

Despite the sultry weekend, the retreatants said they found the new Retreat House ideal for the closed retreat exercises. They also voiced approval of the individual rooms provided and of the other facilities in the Alexander St. building.

ALL PARISHES in the diocese have been assigned dates at the Retreat House according to Elmer J. Bloomer, president of the Laymen's Retreat League of Rochester diocese.

Father Aylward announced today that reservations may now be made direct by writing to the Redemptorial Fathers or in person to the Retreat House.
