College Inaugurates Course To Train Music Therapists

St. Louis — (NC) — A new four-year study program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Music Therapy will be inaugurated in the fall at Fontbonne College, conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Such courses are given at few educational institutions in the country and it is believed here that Fontbonne College is the first Catholic institution to inaugurate the course. The work will include courses in music, psychology and sociology in addition to basic courses for the degree.

In the senior year, students will serve an internship at St. Vincent's Sanitarium, under the direction of physicians of the department of neurology and psychiatry of St. Louis University. The announcement stated that the degree will qualify students to function as a music therapist in neuro-psychiatric hospitals and added that the demand for such therapists at present is very high.

Daughter Breaks Anti-Church Will

Lebanon — (NC) — A non-Catholic woman, who defied the ban of her anti-Catholic father to marry a Catholic, has won the right to share in his estate of 226,000 pounds ($632,800).

The father, Cuthbert Leigh Blundell - Hollinshead - Blundell, who died in 1947 stated in his will that any of his daughters who married a Catholic would forfeit her interest under the will.

Mrs. Bridget Gertrude Pollen, who was already married to a Catholic before her father's death, was awarded a verdict in her favor in the Chancery Division

Blames Treason on 'Godless Schools'

Washington — (NC) — The "trail of treason" in the United States leads directly to educational institutions "which disassociated all real knowledge from the source of truth, God," the Catholic Theological Society of America was told at its convention here.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington declared that those prosecuted within the last year for the most serious crimes against American security "have been, without exception, persons endowed with great intellectual ability and attainments." But, he said, if theology, the study of God and his relations with men, is not the center of learning, "that learning will destroy man rather than benefit him."
