

Mass Celebrated in Town Near Ithaca for First Time

Ithaca—Catholics of the village of Newfield, near Ithaca, had the historic privilege last Sunday morning of assisting at the first Holy Mass ever celebrated in their community.

The Rev. Dr. William Byrne, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, Ithaca, said Mass in the altar of the Holy Trinity church in Newfield, near Ithaca, last Sunday morning.

It was the second in a series of Masses to be celebrated in Newfield, a village of about 100 people, where there have been no churches for regular Sunday services. On July 16 the Rev. James D. Baker, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception, said Mass in Brooktondale, and later this month the Rev. Paul A. Morgan, another assistant, will offer the Holy Sacrifice in Dugby. Father Byrne was assisted by altarboys Dale Freeman of Newfield, a St. Andrew's Seminary student, and Thomas Kelly of Ithaca, enrolled at Providence College, Providence, R. I. Miss Jane Freeman, Harold Lovvick and Charles Watros helped with the Mass arrangements.

Ecuador Chapel To Be Built Through Local Woman's Will

Construction of a chapel in earthquake-torn Ecuador, South America, will be undertaken soon through funds set aside in the will of a Rochester woman.

Arrangements for carrying out the bequest were announced this week by the Very Rev. John S. Randall, director of the diocesan society for the propagation of the faith.

Donor of the chapel was the late Mrs. Beatrice Walker of Wood Street, who died Aug. 25, 1928. Her will provided $100,000 for the propagation of the faith in any part of the world where members of the Walker family would be remembered in all the Masses celebrated in it.

Arrangements to erect the chapel in Ambato, a city of some 20,000 population in Ecuador, followed.

an appeal from Bishop Bernardino, O.F.M., of that area for aid from U. S. Catholics.

Catholic church properties in that area of Ecuador suffered destruction totaling $40,000,000 from last year's earthquake. So much was the destruction, which took 6,000 lives, that Masses since that time have been celebrated out of doors.

Trained Dogs At Roseland

Canine stars in Al Gordon's famed dog act opening a week's engagement at Roseland Park, Canandaigua, Monday, come from dog pounds the country over, according to the park management.

There's not a "blue blood" in the cast. Gordon is said to have carried a boy's sympathy for homeless dogs with him into manhood which has led to his forming one of the best received acts in show business.

Rejecting thoroughbreds as being too temperamental, Gordon claims to be able to take any dog and teach him to do the standard tricks in just six months. His act demonstrates his contention.

The Brick Brothers and Gloria, a trampoline act that played before thousands of G's on the overseas Camp Shows circuit will be at Roseland through Sunday. Shows are at 8 and 10 nightly, with an extra performance Sundays at 4 p.m. Admission is free.

Parish Day Camp Pleases Parents, Thrills 'Kids'

A parish "day camp" is a boon to parents and a thrill to neighborhood youngsters, a visit to the Ave Marie Day Camp at Holy Redeemer School, Rochester, will reveal.

Testimony to the success of the "camp" there first of its kind within a parish unit comes from two sources.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Stauder, pastor, "The parents tell me they're highly pleased with the program, they feel, too, that it has served to lessen possible neighborhood delinquency."

Johnny, one of the campers, "Boy! We have fun! Swimming, sports just everything!" More than 40 boys and girls are enrolled in Camp Ave Marie, which opened July 5 and will close Aug. 15 under the sponsorship of the Columbus Youth Association.

It is conducted similarly to other CYA day camps, which include the citywide one at CYA itself and community ones at its branches (Geneva, e. e. institute, Charles House and East Koch ester.

At Holy Redeemer the youngsters — 8 to 11 years of age — are enrolled for a registration of $1 and a weekly fee of $1 totaling $15 for the seven week period. Nearly half the campers are girls. Although most are Holy Redeemer School children, some are non-Catholics of the neighborhood.

Behind the conduct of these camps are the Rev. Donald J. Mulenly, CYA director, and Stanford Murray, CYA physical director in charge at Holy Redeemer are John F. Wood of St. Augustine's parish, who is engaging in this Summer job while pursuing a master's degree in education at the University of Rochester, and Mrs. Annette Spennacio and the Rev. Raymond J. Wahl is spiritual adviser. Volunteer counselors are Paul Schmidt and Mrs. Mary Palmer, who spend time daily with the youngsters.

Interest of the campers is evidenced by a remark of Monsignor Stauder: "Kids who often are late for school never come late to Camp Ave Marie."

They meet Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for swimming, bicycling, roller skating, boating, visits to city parks, museums and other places of interest. CYA equips each camper with special shirts and with small traveling bags, and pays bus fare for them.

Each youngster brings his lunch, with milk provided by CYA. Swimming instructors are given twice weekly. This Summer camp is scheduled to close August 15.

NO COLLECTIONS are permitted to be taken in the churches as still left open. Permission to bring religious items in the churches is required to advance as well as specification of what hymns will be sung.

The reasons for this regulation, the publication states, is the communist effort to bar the singing of such popular Lithuanian hymns as "Mary, My ease our slavery."

The Bulletin reports that at some churches tickets must be obtained to attend Mass or other religious services. These tickets are sold by the Red authorities at seven rubles each ($1.75 at the official rate) and the proceeds go to the regime.

Services must be scheduled in the early hours of the morning to prevent "the wasting of working time," the magazine states.

Passion Play Draws Americans

Munich — (NC) — Nearly 200,000 people, including 18,000 Americans, have seen the current productions of the Oberammergau Passion Play.

There have been 25 performances. Another 70 are scheduled before Sept. 24. Between 800 to 800 spectators have had to stand at each performance so far. The theater's seating capacity is 3,200.

The principal motive behind the play is its spiritual message and not any desire for monetary profit. Oberammergau's mayor, Haimund Lang, stated in an address before the Protestant Academy of Tutzing near here.

IN 1854, when the play was last performed, the mayor explained, the principal members of the cast received a combined compensation of about $500; and those portraying minor parts, half that amount. In other words, the actors received less than $1,000 for 30 performances. The period covered was more than ten months and all the players had to forego a large part of their regular income during that time.

This year Mayor Lang said, the actors' fees may be even less. The Oberammergau community has shouldered a debt of five million Deutsche marks, approximately $1,200,000.

There is no intention to extend the Passion Play performances beyond the date of September 24. As originally set, Mayor Lang announced, denying a secular news agency report that the play might be repeated next year.

Admissions Tax Bill Sidetracked

Washington, D.C. — (RNS) — The war in Korea has killed any chance for relief of the 20 per cent federal admissions tax on benefits given by religious or charitable organizations.

The Senate Finance Committee voted to sidetrack indefinitely the House-approved bill cutting excise taxes as a result of the Far East war. Tied to this bill were nearly 200 major and minor revisions in the federal tax structure.

One of the provisions of the bill was an amendment that would have removed the 20 per cent federal admissions tax from all programs and benefits given by churches, schools, charitable organizations, and colleges, except for college football and basketball games.

The 20 per cent tax will remain on the books until a bill for general revision of excise taxes is revived in Congress. This probably will not happen until the middle of next year at the earliest.

Catholic Minority In Scandinavia

New York — (NC) — Scandinavia, consisting of five nations from the new Republic of Iceland in the west to Finland on the border of Russia in the east, has 44,179 Catholics in a population of 16,624,947.

Of these nations, Denmark, with a population of 3,614,000, has the largest number of Catholics — 22,000. Next comes Sweden, with 16,000 Catholics in a population of 6,850,000. Norway has 3,890 Catholics in a population of 2,981,000. Finland, 1,789 Catholics in a population of 4,052,177 and Iceland 500 in a population of 127,770.

The statistics were prepared by the St. Ansgar's Scandinavian Catholic League of New York, and published in its annual Bulletin, 1910-1950. The league includes strongly Lutheran Finland in its sphere of interest, although it is not normally considered a part of Scandinavia.

Seeks To Beatify Anti-Nazi Priest

Munich — (RNS) — A cause for the beatification of the Rev. Rupert Mayer, S.J., was initiated here by an ecclesiastical court convened by Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich.

Father Mayer, known as the "Men's Apostle of Munich," was several times arrested by the Gestapo and thrown into concentration camps because of his anti-Nazi attitude. He died in 1945.

Catholic Peace Group Call 'Stockholm Appeal' Red Ruse

Washington — (NC) — The Stockholm "Peace Appeal" is a well-organized communist propaganda ruse to exploit the universal desire for peace, the World Order Committee of the pose an alternative "which could be any stretch of the imagination termed 'strict international control' as called for in the Stockholm Appeal."

This is the second condemnation of the Stockholm Appeal by an official Catholic body. Recently the National Council of Catholic Men called it a "bogus" effort aimed at deceiving the world.

The COMMUNIST party in the United States announced that the campaign for signatures to the appeal in this country is one of its major current activities, the statement of the committee said. It added, "It is not a sincere effort on the part of the communists to attain peace."

The natural desire of the peoples throughout the world for peace has been intensified by the fear of an atomic war. However, it does not necessarily follow that security against an atomic war will mean that the world will have the peace it wants and must have. There must be security against all war — war with conventional armaments as well as atomic war — there must be security against oppression and against the degradation of the human person.

The establishment and maintenance of peace requires more than the absence of war. It requires constant adherence to and application of positive measures, based on the principles of justice and charity and on the true recognition of the inherent dignity of the human person.

RUSSIA has refused to accept proposals in the United Nations looking toward international control of atomic energy, the committee said, and has failed to pro-
