St. Bona Alumni
Of Elmira Greet
Undergraduates

Members of St. Bonaventure University Alumni Association and the undergraduates recently held a get together meeting at the Mark Twain Hotel in Elmira prior to opening of the scholastic year.

City Recorder Daniel J. Donahoe, president of the Alumni group presided at the informal discussion and extended a welcome.

Also present were two professors from St. Bonaventure's, representing Very Rev. Juvenal Lator, O.F.M., president. They were the Rev. Francis W. Kearney, O.F.M., head of the philosophy department and the Rev. Clement Healy, O.F.M., physics professor.

A program of movies and a social hour concluded the affair.

Capuchins Name
New Superior

Geneva. Rev. Gabriel Italia, O.F.M. Cap., who has been superior of the Capuchin seminary on Lochland Rd., and director of the high school has been transferred to Beacon, as master of novices. Father Gabriel left Friday, Sept. 15, to take up his new duties.

Succeeding him will be Very Rev. Michael Rimatori, O.F.M. Cap., former superior of the major seminary in Staunton, Va. He has been professor of philosophy and theology for 12 years. He also has engaged in preaching missions and conducted retreats in the Italian language.

FATHER GABRIEL ITALIA has been in charge of the Latin department at the local seminary for the past year. He was a missionary to Australia and superior of the seminary in Staunton, Va., before coming to Geneva.

Other recent transfers include the assignment of Father Victor, former director of boys at the seminary to the major seminary in Staunton, Va., as director of clerics. Replacing him will be Father Gerard of Hoboken, N. J., who was educated at Staunton. He was ordained a year ago.

Father Timothy, professor of English, has been transferred to Beacon as English professor and teacher of philosophy. Coming here will be Father Dominick of Brooklyn, also educated at Staunton as professor in English. He was ordained this year.

Elmira Catholic Highlights

Common to all schools is the ranks. The Freshmen came scrubbed and eager. The Sophomores with a degree of anticipation, the Juniors were indifferent, the Seniors had been through this twice before, and as for the Seniors, they groaned and creaked with age as they watched opening day procedure for the last time.

Soon we were back in the swing of schedules and subjects. Such words as laboratory, equation, Cicero, Gaelic War, Gregg method, composition, and "Bon Jour" were heard floating through the halls.

Something new has been added, and there have been some changes made. We are happy to welcome back Sister Mary Stephen whose favorite haunt is the library. Sister left seven years ago after a stay of twelve years. She replaced Sister Marian Patricia, whom we shall all miss.

Also new and different is the Athletic Club, masterminded by Paul Dalley, which will allow the boys to play intramural football, basketball and baseball. There are also tentative plans for a bowling team. These have not yet been completed. A scheme is also on the fire for a regular social program with scheduled dances and parties.

Teachers To Hear
Ordinary At Final
Aquinas Session

The two-day Forty-Sixth Annual Teachers Conference of the Diocese of Rochester in progress Thursday and Friday, this week will be brought to a successful conclusion this afternoon with an address by His Excellency, Bishop Kearney in the school auditorium.

Preceding the Bishop's talk will be a discourse at 2:30 p.m. on "Knights and Handmaids of the Blessed Sacrament" by the Rev. Daniel S. Lord, S.J., noted writer, columnist and national director of the Sodality of Our Lady, St. Ignace, Benedictine will conclude the sessions.

A SYMPOSIUM on "The Child and the Catholic Family Center" is scheduled this afternoon at 1 p.m. with the Rev. John E. McCafferty presiding.

Topic and speakers include "Behaviour Problems," John F. Rice; "The Retarded Child," Myra Sartor; "The Foster Child," Catherine E. Wobus; "Referral Method to Catholic Family Center," George W. Montgomery.

A motion picture "Children in Trouble" will be shown.

The 1000 priests, nuns and lay teachers attending the conference heard the Rt. Rev. Magr Felix N. Pitt, superintendent of schools, Archdiocese of Louisville open today's morning session. Yesterday the Very Rev. Thomas F. Plassman, O.F.M., Franciscan Friars Provincial was scheduled to open the sessions.

The conference which is featuring some 80 diversified exhibits is under the direction of the Rev. Dr. Charles J. Mahoney, superintendent, and the Rev. Charles V. Boyle, associate superintendent of schools, Diocese of Rochester.
