CYA Forms New Classes, Groups For Recreation

By HOWARD F. MEATH
CYA Program Director

(Tomorrow morning at 10:30 a.m. in the C.Y.A. Lounge, a second meeting of church representatives for the purpose of activating a parochial grammar school basketball league, will be held. Time is getting short before basketball season gets under full swing. We hope a good attendance will be at the meeting to begin action.)

With the Winter season rapidly closing in, the Columbus Youth Association is trying to widen its program and facilities to meet the needs and desires of its members who are being forced indoors.

It was just this past week that the initial contest of the Tuesday and Friday noon Volley Ball Club was played. Although the turnout was fairly good, there are still many positions open for interested men.

While this group call themselves a club, in reality it is a group of men interested in coming to the gym twice a week for a noon hour workout. It is by no means a closed group and every man, above high school age, is invited to take part.

• • •

The Monday evening gym class met this past week for the third time. Its attendance is gradually working its way into the double figure bracket. Our hope is that this group will continue to grow so that bigger and better programs can be initiated.

One night after one of these sessions, (wo men were overheard talking in the locker room. One was saying "Boy! what a workout that fellow put us through—but I feel years younger and pounds lighter."

Although this might be a slight exaggeration, we do have good workouts topped off with some good recreation games. Anyone wanting to join the group should come in any Monday night at 7 p.m. The class lasts just one hour.

• • •

Another new group getting underway tomorrow afternoon is the Gymnastics Club. Again, this "club" is open to all interested men above grammar school age, who have a desire to learn tumbling, use of apparatus, and the art of balance. Meeting time is every Saturday afternoon from five, until seven o'clock. It is under the direction of George Cheston, our capable gymnastical instructor.

• • •

For the younger groups, a table tennis tournament is in the process of being set up. So far, the names of interested boys has far outnumbered the names of the girls who have signed. Girls are urged to sign that list on the bulletin board so they will have a larger tournament than the boys. The boys are warned not to let the girls get ahead of them. Both are urged to watch the bulletin board for playing schedule and time of games.

School Organizes 4 Civics Clubs

The Grade 8 West Civics Club of Holy Family School, Rochester has received its official charter from the national headquarters of the Catholic Civics Clubs of America in Washington, D. C.

Officers elected by Grade 8 Club are: Robert Perry, president Frieda Janssen, vice president Anne Marie Wido, recording secretary; Barbara Horwath, corresponding secretary and Bruce Schaubert sergeant-at-arms

OTHER CIVICS CLUB officers named at Holy Family School are Grade 8 East Joan Carr, president, William Waytowich, vice president; Dolores Stokes, secretary; Danny Dugan, treasurer and Philip Livi, sergeant-at-arms.

Grade 7 East Jane Schlaffer, president, Bernard O'Conner, vice president Helen Sliska, treasurer and Anthony Sassone, secretary. Grade 7 West, Frank Cody president Norman Schroth, vice president; Adrian Chatel, treasurer and Janet Ann Marsh, secretary.

The Holy Family Civics Clubs are some of the more than 3,000 Catholic Civics Clubs now functioning in the United States.

Sponsored by the Commission on American Citizenship of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., these clubs foster training for good citizenship among students of parochial junior high schools throughout the nation.

This car the commission has set up for Civics Club members a program of study and action relating to specific community problems affecting the interests and welfare of young teen-agers.

The Young Catholic Messenger, national weekly for parochial junior high school students, cooperates with the commission by publishing a series of articles dealing with these topics
