Rochester Woman Authors Sell-Out Religious Play

Sell-out performances, weekend parish bookings through next May and the commendation of nationally-noted actors are portions of the success-story of a former Rochester woman whose play, "Lady of Lips," has received wide approval in New York City.

She is Mary Eunice Sayrander (now Mrs. J. M. Spagnola of Brooklyn), talented ex-Rochester amateur actress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Sayrander, 91 Hamilton St.

Wholly remembered in Rochester for her performances with the Blackfriars Guild and the St. Boniface Footlight Club a decade ago, Miss Sayrander is a convert to Catholicism, having been interested in the Church several years ago by the work of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, director of the National Shrine of the Little Flower in Michigan.

HER LATEST-AUTHORED play tells the story of the reported apparitions of the Blessed Virgin to a Carmelite postulant two years ago in a convent garden at Lipa in the Philippines.

Among other dramas she has written was one titled "Teasie," a three-act story of St. Theresa of the Little Flower, which was presented by a professional stock company in Newark, N. J.

Niagara University Marks 94th Year

A Solemn High Mass of Thanksgiving, held in honor of the observance of the 94th anniversary of the founding of Niagara University, was celebrated Nov. 19 in the university chapel. The Very Rev. Francis L. Meade, C.M., president of the university celebrated the Mass and the Very Rev. Francis X. Desmond, C.M., rector of Our Lady of Angels' seminary delivered the sermon.

The Rev. Edward J. Kierman, C.M., dean of the college of arts and sciences was deacon at the Mass and the Rev. Mark J. Mullin, C.M., dean of the graduate school was sub-deacon. Seminars from Our Lady of Angels' seminary filled the minor offices and sang.

Niagara University was founded in 1856 by the Rev. John J. Lynch, C.M., who later served as the first Archbishop of Toronto. The first venture of Father Lynch to establish a college on the Niagara frontier, was made on the shore of Lake Erie, a few miles outside the city of Buffalo.

Later, on November 21, 1856 the stout-hearted founder of Niagara University opened a school in an abandoned orphan asylum in what is now Porter Square, Buffalo.

THE SITE, however, did not prove satisfactory and during the Christmas vacation of 1856, Father Lynch came to Niagara Falls in search of a more desirable location and also to fulfill a realization of the dream of his boyhood days, that of establishing an institution of learning within sight of Niagara's mighty cataract.

After considering several locations on both sides of the river, Father Lynch finally decided upon Niagara's present location, then known as the "Vedder Farm." This plot of 100 acres was purchased within the year and shortly thereafter, 200 adjoining acres were purchased from the DeVeaux estate. Work on the new institution proceeded immediately and in May
