Among Women An Advent Wreath

By MARY LENNON SNYDER

Of the many pious practices found among different peoples in preparation for Christmas, one is the Advent Wreath.

which seems to capture modern imaginations and present a tangible and prayerful reminder of the approach of the Holy Feast throughout the preparatory season of Advent. The practice is widespread in religious houses and seminaries, but in this part of the world it is not so common among private

Chrysanthemum Salad

It's a harvest of fruits when you make the novel Chrysanthemum Salad! The shell of a large California orange or grapefruit is a copy of the favorite fall flower, the chrysanthemum. As garnish on your table or the "Mum" is not a football game, this salad gives both atmosphere and good eating.

In making the orange or grapefruit chrysanthemum, cut through the peel, just to the pulp in six places—starting each time at the top of the fruit and going to within an inch of the base. Pull each piece of peel away from the pulp as far as it has been cut. Then cut each section of peel into four or five narrow strips. Scoop out the fruit and cut it into bite-size pieces for the salad or for a fresh fruit cup.

You will need bite-size chunks from four large oranges for the fruit mixture. Add to these, two large red apples cut into small chunks, one-half cup sweet canned cherries, and one grapefruit cut into small pieces. Add walnut halves as a garnish.
