

Jewish Judge Rules Saint's Statue Erected by Alhambra Remains In Park

The statue of St. Francis Xavier Cabrini, erected by the national Order of the Alhambra, a Catholic organization, in New Orleans in August 1949 and sought to be removed by Protestants will remain in a public place, a Jewish judge, Civil District Judge L. H. Yarrat of New Orleans ruled Thursday.

At the dedication of the statue of St. Francis Xavier Cabrini in New Orleans, in August, 1949, those gathered did not feel that a legal action would be later instituted to have it removed. Shown on extreme right is Norman A. O'Brien, of Rochester, supreme commander elected at the convention of the order held at the time the statue was dedicated.

of Martin Luther in one of the largest parks in Baltimore, of a priest in Los Angeles, and of a minister in Elmira, N. Y.

THE STATUE of the subject is that of Thomas K. Beecher, erected in Wiener Park, Elmira by the citizens of Elmira in 1901. He was pastor of Park Church for 37 years and was a brother of Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe.

"New Orleans" Judge Yarrat said in considering the case, "In studied with statues of heroes and there is no city or town in the state—or anywhere in these United States—where similar statues have not been raised."

His opinion as reported by the Associated Press made the observation:

"When there is a legal contest prosecuted by some of the Protestant faith to remove a public statue dedicated to one of the Catholic faith tried in a court of law presided over by a judge of the Jewish faith, we may well know that democracy is still hard at work."

Alhambra throughout the country were watching the case with deep interest according to Norman A. O'Brien of Rochester, supreme commander of the order and elected in New Orleans in August 1949. He was present at the dedication.

THE STATUE had stood unopposed on public property in Lakeview, a residential part of New Orleans, until George L. Singlemann sought an order to require the city to remove it. Five ministers—a Methodist, a Presbyterian, an American Lutheran and two Baptists—intervened on Mr. Singlemann's behalf.

Permission for erection of the statue had been obtained by representatives of the Alhambra from the mayor and other members of the New Orleans commission council. But Mr. Singlemann and the ministers say its erection on public property violates the State Constitution and the principle of separation of church and state. Each minister also testified that the statue is within a few blocks of his church.

Judge Yarrat, after hearing the case, announced he would hand down his decree as soon as possible.

Testimony showed that St. Francis, still known to the people of New Orleans as "Mother Cabrini," established two houses in New Orleans, one of them an orphanage. She visited the sick during a yellow fever epidemic, and she distributed food to anyone in distress—regardless of race or religion.

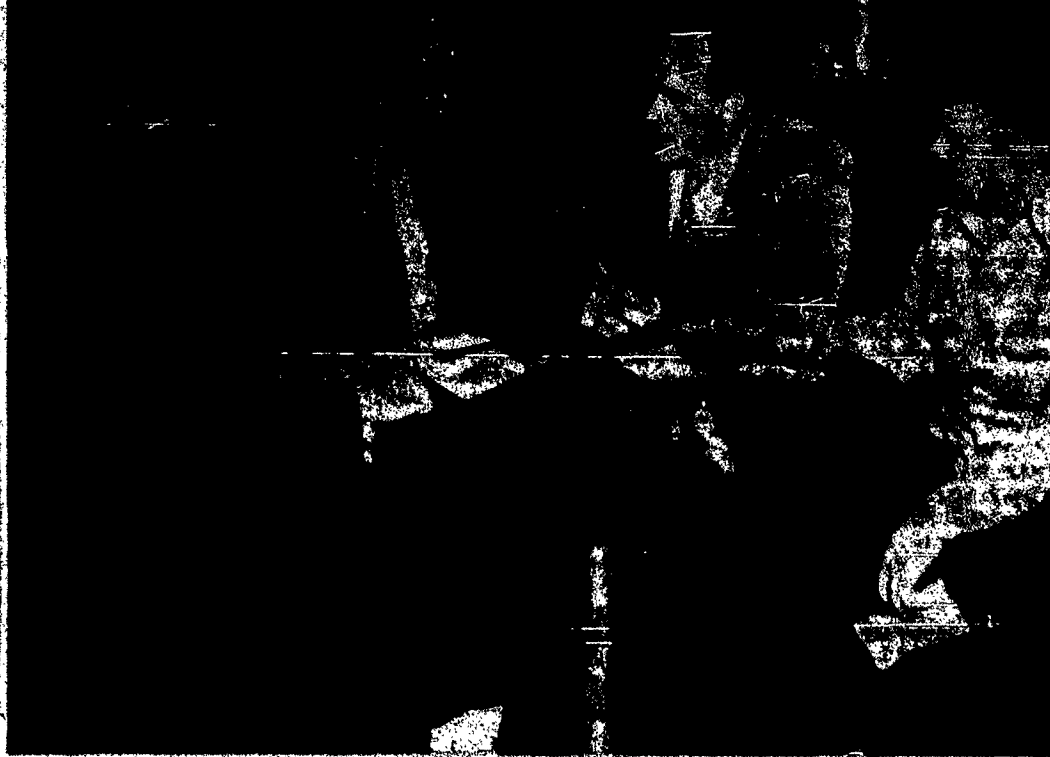

The city of New Orleans, defending the right to erect a statue of Mother Cabrini on public property as a public benefactor and a public figure, submitted photographs showing 17 statues and plaques in public places commemorating public figures, religious and otherwise in New Orleans.

Testimony brought out that Palmer Park was named for the late Rev. Benjamin Palmer, a Presbyterian.

Legion Post Buys Former Retreat House In Geneva

Geneva — Geneva's Winnep Post, American Legion, has purchased the former Our Lady of the Lake Retreat and Mission House on Lochland Rd., for a new home. Purchase of the house was announced at a special meeting of post members.

Legionnaires are buying the property from the Catholic Diocese of Rochester. The diocese had used it from 1942 until 1948, as a retreat and mission house. During this period, hundreds of Catholics had attended retreats there. It was conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers.

CATHOLIC USE of the property was discontinued in 1948 when the diocese purchased a former seminary building in Rochester and transferred activities there.

Decision to buy the 60 year old 18-room structure climaxed several years of talking and planning about a "new home" for the veterans group.

About 150 post members, voting as members of the Winnep Post Corp. Inc., authorized the board of directors to complete the purchase price of $35,000.

Purchase of the home, situated on a 13-acre Seneca lakefront site was decided upon, directors said, because they felt it would fully meet the needs of the post now and in the future.

Bishop James E. Kearney of Rochester presided at the dedicatory services when the retreat house was opened in May, 1942. In charge of the retreat house

Bishop To Speak To Newmanites

His Excellency Bishop Kearney will be one of the keynote speakers at the annual convention of Central New York State Province of Newman Clubs to be held in Plattsburgh from April 20 to April 22, according to Provincial Chairman Harry A. Faltmeyer of Champlain College.

The Bishop will speak as episcopal moderator of the National Newman Club Federation. Other keynote addresses will be given by Bishop Bryan J. McEntegart, of Ogdensburg and Provost Frederick A. Morse of Champlain College.

Catholic students will attend from more than 30 non-sectarian colleges and universities in the province, which covers New York State, north and west of Albany, and including Albany. Meet of the sessions will be held on the campus of Champlain College, a unit of State University of New York, while Plattsburgh State Teachers College, a sister State University unit, will help with arrangements.

Theme will be "The Courageous Catholic." A Chaplains' Workshop for all Newman Club chaplains in the province is scheduled.

William Haule, University of Rochester, has been named to the group of moderators.

Local Prizes To Be Given For CDA Poetry Contest

Court Rochester, Catholic Daughters of America, will award local prizes in the annual Creative Poetry Contest currently being sponsored. Mrs. Joseph A. Murphy, president, Miss Sarah Wilson and Mrs. J. A. Fales are serving on the local contest committee.

$1645 In Dimes Raised By Pupils
Staters and children of the city's Catholic schools were thanked by the "March of Dimes" officials for the generous contribution of $1,645.40 to the 1951 Polio fund.

The letter was signed by Mrs. John L. Wehle, Monroe County Campaign Director.

Teachers and pupils were commended in the Superintendent's News Letter for their cooperation with a civic project.

Meet At Ridge Road Hall Rosary Society of St. John's Church, Ridge Rd., will meet in the school hall Wednesday, Mar. 28, following Lenten devotions in church at 7:30 p.m.
