"The City of Kings" was presented by the Friary Players in St. Dominic's Hall, Haverstock Hill, North London. St. Dominic's parish, where the Friary Players have been taking the stage for 20 years, is exploring the possibilities of giving London a first Catholic professional theater of its own.

N.D. Band Hailed In Two Concerts

The Notre Dame University Band of 36 young men was enthusiastically received in two concerts at Columbus Civic Center Sunday for their precision in performances and for solos by players of exceptional talent.

Directed by Lee Hope, the band was considered on a par with professional musicians although their director said playing was an activity and not a part of their courses at the University.

While Notre Dame conducts a highly recognized music department, the members of the band are for the most part law students and students in other departments.

From the Concert Opening arranged by Hope to the stirring Victory March, the concert won applause. The band was especially effective in excerpts from the motion picture, "Tap Roots," a new endeavor for college bands.

SOLOISTS included William Molinier, on the piano; Charles Hof, baritone, well received in "The Grenadiers"; the Trombone Quintet comprising Herbert Dir, Eugene Henry, Henry Keating, Lee Travis, David O'Leary; saxophone soloist, Gene Hull and William MacMillan on the marimba.

The audiences applauded Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, with Joseph P. Flynn as chairman, Grand Knight Raymond L. Nary welcomed the band members to the clubrooms after the concert. Leo F. Tombat handled tickets and reservations.

'Macbeth' By Catholic U. Players Earns Applause

Macbeth, one of Shakespeare's greatest plays was aptly presented to Rochester audiences Tuesday evening, Apr. 3, in the Nazareth College auditorium, by the Players of the Catholic University.

The company of sixteen dramatic students is touring the United States bringing to American audiences a wealth of versatility and ability. In Tuesday evening's performance the portrayal of the wickedly ambitious Macbeth, who forfeits all manly virtue for earthly power and position was brilliantly handled by Stanley Tolchin.

His interpretation of the agony of fear and the dread of punishment was polished and professional in presentation. Lady Macbeth, handled by Teddy Marie Kinsey, came alive in the Players production. Particularly commendable was the famed sleepwalking scene. Miss Kinsey, vice-president of the group, ably conveyed the womanly wiles of the character with profound accuracy.

In contrast to the evil Macbeth, the lesser role of Banquo was well-handled by J. Robert Dietz who also handled the role of Old Sward.

Special mention should go to Carol Anthony, June McCormick, and James Langan in their roles as the Weird Sisters. Mr. Langan also appeared as the Porter and gave to the production its single comic note.

Intricate lighting and simple but effective stage settings provide a background suitable for the exciting plot. In the role of Macbeth, William Kearns, appeared. As Lady Macduff, Carol Anthony gave a satisfying performance.

The University Players are under the guidance of the Rev. Gilbert V. Hogue, O.P., head of the Speech and Drama Department at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C. Twenty six states in the United States and Canada will be visited during their current season 1950-51. The company travels in two suburban and two ten-and-a-half trucks.

Churches in Germany Win Victory In Movie Control
